IF Wisconsin trout would bite the President's bait as savagely as "respectable" usury, encouraged by the Federal Reserve, bites American business, it would be wonderful.

When he finishes with the trout President Coolidge may want to know why the Federal Reserve has been acting as an agency to promote usury and increase the cost of doing business. A well known Los Angeles business man wires the suggestion that some Wall Street gentlemen, with strings on the Federal Reserve, having gone short of the market, are raising interest rates to knock down prices, under pretext of "restraining excessive speculation."

A year ago, Wall Street respectabilities warned against higher prices, which probably meant that they were "short." Will the President, or perhaps his successor, Hoover or Smith, look into this matter? Besides crippling business and prosperity, our artificially created usury rates are helping London to regain from us control of the world's money market.

Dr. Paul French, medico-legal expert, reports he found poison in the organs of Alfred Loewenstein, Belgian millionaire, supposed to have jumped from his airplane.

London's Scotland Yard detectives are working on what they think may be the greatest murder mystery of all times.

The motive for the murder may have been to produce profit for stock gamblers. Stocks, controlled by Loewenstein dropped tens of millions on his death.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., interests himself in New York's race problem, as regards colored people. He has built model tenements for them at reasonable prices, and will build more, instead of compelling the colored population to pay exorbitant rents for miserable quarters.

In one of his model apartment houses for colored people Mr. Rockefeller has installed a bank, in which his son is a director, the latter's first directorate.

The original thing about the bank is that it will treat colored people, borrowers and depositors, fairly, and not tell them in the words of the old story, "Can't you understand that the interest ate up the money that you deposited with us?"

We live in an age that will amaze our descendants. Let us hope so, at least.

Chicago's crime commission says 60,000 complaints to the police were pigeonholed; simplest way to get rid of them.

You cannot blame the police, busy with bootleggers, from whom collections must be made regularly.

Mr. Cyrus H. K. Curtis' private investigator reports that speakeasies in New York city, alone, pay at least ten million dollars a year for "protection" locally. This means that $10,000,000 does not include sums paid to federal "enforcement" gentlemen.

A distinguished official replies: "You're away off in your figures. It isn't $10,000,000, it is $15,000,000 if it's a nickel."

It is said the Federal Trade Commission will investigate the absorption of Dodge Brothers by the Chrysler Automobile Company.

The commission should congratulate Mr. Chrysler. The country needs bigger units, more efficiency, smaller overhead. Mr. Chrysler, buying the Dodge Company, which happened to be in the hands of bankers, rendered service to the public, and the Dodge Company.

Costa Rica asks the League of Nations "to interpret the Monroe Doctrine."

The League should reply that the Monroe Doctrine is the business of the United States, and

FRENCHMAN WINS TEMPERAMENTAL DIVA
Mary Garden, 51, famous opera star for more than a score of years, is to wed Pierre Plessis, a French journalist, according to dispatches from Paris.

MARY GARDEN TO WED JOURNALIST IN FRANCE

Paris, Aug. 16 (INS)—A dispatch from Hyeres today announced the engagement of Mary Garden, 51, the American opera singer, to Pierre Plessis, a French journalist.

Down through the years, from the time of her debut at the Opera Comique in Paris in 1900, Mary Garden has been the most colorful personality in grand opera.

Born in Scotland, she came to this country with her parents at the age of six years, but her first musical success was achieved abroad, and Miss Garden did not appear here until 1908 after she had become a great favorite with French audiences.

Making her American debut under Oscar Hammerstein's management in the Manhattan Opera House, Mary Garden scored instant success.

POLICE HEAD WAVES BOTTLE OF 'BAD BOOZE' AT LICENSE HEARING

Waving in his hand a quart bottle of what he called "rotgut liquor" Police Superintendent Michael H. Crowley appeared before the Boston licensing commission at its Beacon st. office today and took that body to task for granting victuallers' licenses against advice of the police department and for suspending revocation of licenses where revocation has been obtained by the police.

The appearance of the police department's husky, one-man raiding squad featured a hearing for revocation of the license of Thomas P. Morgan, whose near-beer saloon in Washington st., Roxbury, was raided August 3 by the superintendent.

Supt. Crowley on that occasion confiscated five quarts of something stronger than near-beer and it was one of these which he brandished at the hearing.

Morgan presented no defense and his attorney told the board the saloon already was closed and that the furnishings would be removed at once.

Chauffeurs, street car motormen and conductors were visiting Mor-

6 DEAD IN HEAT WAVE; HOPE OF RAIN TONIGHT

Cooling showers were predicted for tonight as two more heat prostrations were registered today and the mercury soared again to the 91 degree mark.

Thus far in the present heat wave there have been six deaths—three from heat and three by drowning.

The new victims of prostration today are Claude A. Moore, 45, of Powder Mill rd., Maynard, who collapsed in Summer st., and William J. Bagwell, 40, of Cabot st., Roxbury, a metal worker, who narrowly escaped death when he was overcome on a Somerville church roof.

Those dead in the heat wave thus far are:

Arnold Scheiss, 55, business man, found dead in bed at his home in Millville today. Doctors said his death was due to heat prostration.

Joseph T. Stoehr, real estate operator of Columbus ave., dropped dead from the heat early today in a Columbus ave. restaurant.

James McKeigue, 29, Salem st.,

LAWYERS NEAR BLOWS IN BRICKBOTTOM TRIAL

Dist. Atty. Robert T. Bushnell and Atty. William R. Scharton threatened to come to blows in Somerville District court today at the hearing of Scharton's applications for warrants for a State trooper and a Cambridge patrolman, members of the "Brickbottom-Gold Coast" rum blockade.

On agreement of counsel, the applications were denied by Court Clerk Daniel H. Bradley in order that a judge might pass upon them on appeal.

Scharton sought the arrest of the trooper and the patrolman on assault and battery charges. The complainant was Peter Patalano of South st., Somerville, whose home is in the so-called "Gold Coast" district.

Patalano testified the trooper stopped him for the third time, as he drove through the district. The trooper hurt his hand. Patalano

Ex-Atty. E. T. Bannon of New Bedford, who has filed a complaint against alleged conditions in Norfolk Prison camp with Gov. Fuller. Bannon is serving a term for larceny.

PHILLIPS BOY GOES TO 'MA'

By a decision of Judge Crosby in Supreme Court today, Mrs. Jack Phillips of Richmond, Va., won the custody of her eight-year-old son, by a former marriage, Alger Monroe MacCready, Jr.

The boy's father, Alger M. MacCready, of Revere, who took the child from the Long Island, N. Y., institution six weeks ago, was ordered to turn him over to his mother with permission to visit young Alger at any reasonable time.

Judge Crosby granted the petition of Mrs. Phillips for a writ of habeas corpus, which was filed when MacCready refused to heed the plea of his former wife and his own mother that he return the boy to Mrs. Phillips. It was brought out at the hearing that her present husband, Elton L. Phillips, is a man of considerable means.

PROBE OF CHARGES AT STATE PRISON COLONY ORDERED BY GOVERNOR

Sensational charges regarding the prison colony at Norfolk—dissemination of K. K. K. literature with the knowledge of the superintendent, love-making between employes and inmates, liquor parties and other alleged conditions—are made by Edward P. Bannon, disbarred New Bedford lawyer, in a letter to Governor Fuller from Bannon's cell in State Prison.

Governor Fuller, as a result, has ordered a complete investigation by Commissioner of Correction Sanford Bates, and Superintendent Howard Gill of the prison camp has been requested to give an answer to every accusation.

These facts, together with Bannon's allegations in every detail, are revealed today by the Boston Evening American, exclusively, and in spite of an attempt at secrecy by officials.

Bannon, who was one of those recently transferred from the sunny, airy prison camp back to the gray walled institution at Charlestown, instead of being kept there until given fredom on parole, declares in his letter to the governor that he prefers serving his complete term to keeping silent.

His parole, which was to have be-

BURGLAR FLEES SHOTS BUT STOPS FOR FIGHT

A ruse and a fist fight captured an alleged burglar in North Randolph early today, where Police Chief Patrick McDonnell, a citizens' posse and five shots failed to do so.

The alleged burglar gave his name as Joseph Midens of Providence, but later changed it to Joseph Midnedes of the same place. He is held for breaking and entering in the night time and larceny.

In the melee which took place in a wooded swamp, Chief McDonnell ruined a new suit, but Midnedes himself was almost ruined when the chief, unable to force him to surrender, crashed him "right on the button" and knocked him out in the mud.

Chief McDonnell went into action originally on a telephone call from the home of John F. Kelley in Bal-come effective August 15—yesterday—has already been revoked. He is serving three to five years for larceny, but had he not protested, he asserts, he would be a free man again today.

JAILED LAWYER PUTS PRISON CHARGES UP TO FULLER

Charging that K. K. K. and radical literature was circulated among the prisoners at the colony, with the full knowledge of Supt. Gill, Bannon specifically names the "Fellowship Forum," a periodical.

Favoritism shown certain inmates of the camp by officials is among the other accusations that he makes.

Bannon offers proof that when his parole was originally due in July, he sacrificed his chance of having it granted on time by his protests to Supt. Gill about the permitted distribution of the periodical.

His letter to the governor reads, in part:

"I am now back in State Prison; and my return was arranged in such manner as to raise a smoke screen around a most important matter. I am going to destroy that smoke screen from a cell in State Prison and let your excellency view the official conduct and misconduct of a servant of this Commonwealth.

"I am also going to set forth before Your Excellency a form of persecution that rivals that of certain Mexican officials past and present.

PROTEST ON PAPER

"At the prison colony there exists a camp council, an elective body chosen by the inmates. The superintendent is an ex-officio member. At a meeting on July 5 Superintendent Gill asked if we had any suggestions to offer beneficial to the camp. I said:

"'Mr. Gill, there is a paper being circulated in the camp which probably escaped the censor.' He said: 'You mean the paper that comes to John Merrick? If so, I take full responsibility for its admission. Don't you be so narrow. You know the right of free press. Certainly I let that paper in and will continue to.'

"There was a lively discussion at the end of which I asked Superintendent Gill to exclude the paper. He turned to me and said: 'No! Do you hear that?' I thereupon resigned from the camp council. What followed is of interest as it tends to establish the misuse official influence can be put to.

"I have been returned to State prison and my parole revoked. That was a smoke screen."

The writer then says that the commissioner of correction and Supt. Gill were aware that certain persons were going to take the matter of the Fellowship Forum circulating in Massachusetts penal colonies up with the Governor.

The letter continues:

"These officials were further aware that out of this controversy certain flagrant misfeasance and nonfeasance on the part of Supt. Gill were coming to light. The real issue has been clouded.

"I was eligible for parole July 29 but my parole date was advanced to August 15. Inmates charged with serious offenses, I am glad to say, were given parole as of the date of eligibility. I alone was set back.

REVEALS 'LIQUOR PARTIES'

"I told him of the inmates who months ago had gone by auto to visit their wives and friends. I told him of the love affairs that he had countenanced between his domestics and an inmate. Right here let me say that both of these persons are decent, I am only referring to their relative status officially.

"I told him of an inmate he knew had been taken at night many times last winter to visit his girl, who also is a respectable person. I told him of liquor parties inmates had had at the camp about which he took no action.

"I told him of the caviar and most expensive groceries purchased by him for his table in violation of the statute regarding maintenance. I told him of an inmate who within two weeks had spent the afternoon at his home which is located within the shadow of state prison."

Bannon further declares in his letter that Supt. Gill, "knowing now that all was to be exposed," held back his mail and refused to permit him to write to the Governor, although Bannon was permitted later to send a letter asking for transfer back to state prison.

GIRL IS THREATENED

He charges that a young lady who visited another prisoner was accused of smuggling out his mail and a threat was made to lock up the prisoner at the Walpole jail unless she admitted the accusation. This was done, Bannon declares, but nothing was gained because the charge was unfounded.

Bannon asserts also that two other prisoners, one a Boston doctor, were locked up at the Walpole jail and similarly accused, while Bannon himself defied the colony authorities to fine him at that place, pointing out that it was not legal to do so.

Instead, he says, he was locked up in a basement dining hall at the camp and given four slices of buttered bread for breakfast.

DEMAND ALL FACTS

Gov. Fuller was not at the State House today but his secretary, Herman McDonald, said that Bannon's letter had been referred to Commissioner Bates for a report. The commissioner is on his vacation, but Deputy Commissioner Edward C. R. Bagley said that Supt. Gill has been requested to make a complete report as soon as possible on every phase of the allegations.

Supt. Gill was appointed to take charge of the Norfolk Prison Colony by Commissioner Bates last November 10. Previously he lived in Cambridge and was engaged on government prison surveys.

DOG CLUBBED TO DEATH

A small black dog, reported to police as running about South Boston streets with froth dripping from his mouth, was clubbed to death today in a Dorchester ave. doorway by Patrolman John Sullivan of the Athens st. station.

Sergt. John Toomey of the same station had been searching for the dog half an hour when Sullivan on traffic duty at Dorchester ave. and Broadway, sighted it.

The officer gave chase, and when he overtook the dog it ran into a doorway. Then the officer drew his club and killed it.

RITES IN BROOKLINE FOR REDMUND J. DOHERTY

Redmund Joseph Doherty, World War veteran and the first amateur wireless operator in Boston, was buried today in Calvary Cemetery, following a requiem mass attenred by a large gathering of friends and relatives in St. Alden's Church Brookline.

Doherty died suddenly on Monday. He was 35 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Doherty of Beacon st. His father has for years been prominent in yachting circles.

The deceased entered Boston Latin school at the age of 11. His education was continued at Georgetown University and Boston University Law school.

He is survived by his wife, who was Katherine Hudgkins, daughter of a well-known California clergyman, and by an infant son, Gerald.

Thermometer Goes Cuckoo With Heat in Harvard Square

Harvard square's official thermometer went cuckoo with the heat yesterday.

Although located in a shady doorway, the mercurial register at 4 p. m., alarmed perspiring hundreds, when the liquid metal leaped to the 140-degree notch and stayed there.

At the time and place it appeared as if local weather records for all time had been busted. But the federal weather tally was officially 85 degrees.

DASHING TEAM DRAGS OFFICER

Clinging to the bridle of one of a pair of galloping horses, Officer Timothy Cunningham of the Chelsea police department was dragged across Chelsea sq. today in view of 200 persons, eventually bringing the animals to a stop.

Women and children screamed as the wagon drawn by the horses sideswiped three automobiles and a trolley car, scattering bottles of milk across the square.

Officer Cunningham was doing traffic duty at Broadway and Everett ave., in Chelsea sq., when he saw the two horses racing towards him on Everett ave. The wagon, without a driver, bounced and swayed behind them.

The officer, as the team reached him, seized the bridle of the off horse.

lard st., North Randolph. A man had burgled the home and disappeared in the woods.

The chief rounded up a neighbors' posse and combed the woods in the darkness without success. Then the chief announced in a loud voice that the man had got away and they would go home.

He rode his motorcycle back, got into his car and came back to the woods by a different route, stopped, switched off the lights, and waited.

Within an hour a man came out of the woods. As Chief McDonnell flashed a light in his face he fled. McDonnell fired five shots in the air and at him, but failed to halt the fugitive.

JEWELS IN POCKET

McDonnell caught the man on foot and a terrific battle ensued, both men rolling in the slime, until McDonnell knocked his opponent unconscious.

Midnedes had $109 in cash, a diamond ring, an opal ring, two gold rings and a pearl necklace in his pockets, police said. He was in his stocking feet and had been carrying his shoes looped around his neck.

Reports came of burglaries from the homes of Robert J. Haltzen of Ballard st, and Fred White of Morgan st.

serting that his fiancee would not even be in Europe while he was there. He said:

"The date for the wedding has been set and that's all I can say. I am a Catholic and I intend to remain in that faith."

This strengthened reports that Tunney and Miss Lauder, an Episcopalian were to be married by the Rev. Francis P. Duffy, rector of Holy Cross Church here. The wedding, it was said, would be in the fall.

Gene denied that he had been approached by Morris Gest with an offer of a star part in a Shakesperian spectacle. He said:

GOING INTO BUSINESS.

"I'd be highly honored by such an offer, but I have had none. Nor could I accept even if I had. I have no stage aspirations."

Asked what his career would be when he returned, Tunney said:

"A man's career is something he needs to think about. I won't say I haven't done a lot of thinking. Of course I have, but I expect to do a lot more while I'm in Europe.

"I am telling you the absolute truth when I say I haven't decided what I shall do. It will be a business, not a profession. That's all I'm sure of. I'll decide definitely when I get back."

CROWLEY RAPS LICENSE BOARD AT HEARING

gan's place and drinking of the "rot-gut," Crowley said. The seized liquor showed an alcoholic content of 27 per cent.

WANTS PLACE CLOSED.

"The process of revoking a license and then suspending revocation is a farce," the superintendent declared. "Commissioner Wilson asked me to come here and ask you to close this place up and give us every co-operation in the police attempts to close the doors of similar places."

Arthur J. Selfridge, of the board, interrupted to state that it was not necessary for the commissioner to make any such request that all that was necessary to close a place was presentation of the evidence. Sitting with him were chairman David T. Montague and Commissioner Mary E. Driscoll.

Suspension of revocation of license sometimes followed police advice along such lines, Selfridge charged.

Capt. George W. Patterson of the liquor and vice squad said that, on the contrary, police were instructed to make no such recommendations and any who did were subject to removal from the department.

About 15 police officers and patrolmen were present to substantiate Supt. Crowley's testimony against the Morgan saloon.

Capt. Fitzgerald, of Dudley st. station, accused the board of granting licenses over police objection, to which Selfridge replied that on several occasions he had made personal visits to places in question and discovered nothing objectionable.

"LOOKS LIKE A FARCE"

Testifying again, Supt. Crowley said: "I would earnestly urge that when the board revokes a license it abandon the practice of suspending revocation. It looks like a farce."

"Do you think we have done too much for the license holders?" asked Miss Driscoll.

"Yes, madam," replied the superintendent.

If some of the places are closed up by revocation of victualers' licenses they are reopened as smoke shops, Selfridge pointed out.

"Then it is the duty of the police to hunt them out," Said Crowley.

The board permanently revoked the Morgan license at the conclusion of the hearing.

CLUB FELLS HIS PREY IN CHASE

At the end of a wild chase through the slime of the Mystic marshes, Patrolman William S. Campbell of Everett felled Edward Gennelli of West st., Everett, with a blow from his club today and arrested him.

Gennelli was wanted for alleged breaking and entering the Mystic Iron Works plant and larceny of copper. Given surgical treatment and then taken to Malden court, he was held in $1000 bail for the grand jury.

Campbell and Special Officer Killion went together to get Gennelli and his brother Chester and had arrested both when Edward made his break for liberty. Chester Gennelli was charged with breaking and entering a grocery store and was held in $500 bail for the grand jury.

FREED IN WOMAN'S DEATH, BUT INDICTED IN SHOOTING

The Suffolk grand jury today returned a "no bill" in the case of Nicholas S. Constantino of East Boston, charged with causing the death of Mrs. Carrilla Galgi, who was shot while sitting at the window of her home. Constantino, however, was indicted for discharging firearms within the city limits, it being found he was engaged in target practice on the day Mrs. Galgi was accidentally shot.

MARY GARDEN TO WED PARIS JOURNALIST

and from that time on has never lost her place in the affections of American opera lovers.

Temperamental, brutally frank at moments, and possessed of a fiery temper, she occupied the spotlight at all times, whether impressing her dominant spirit on recalcitrant artistes in the Chicago Opera Company, or indulging in her famous sun baths at her French summer home.

As might be expected of one of her verve and bonhomie, her engagement has been reported almost annually, only to be shrugged off in characteristic fashion by the famous diva.

Sometimes it was a Russian prince, sometimes a grand duke, sometimes a singer in her own company, or again it might be a star in the sports world. On one occasion the inimitable Mary gravely discussed the possibility of entering a convent.

LINDY CHARMED HER

In 1909 she was reported engaged to Prince Mavrocadatto of Russia, in 1913 it was Vanni Marcoux, famous baritone; in 1910 it was Edward T. Stotesbury, Philadelphia banker and capitalist. Then there were "Big Bill" Edwards, former Princeton guard and commissioner of New York police; "Big Bill" Tilden, tennis star, and Carpentier, French pugilist, who was defeated by Jack Dempsey.

Mary declared that Gene Tunney was a "dear," and was so carried away by Col. Lindbergh that she actually offered to sing for him, and the "Star Spangled Banner" at that!

Only last March she summarily disposed of matrimony with "Tush, tush," although admitting that men were nice. In 1923 she coyly informed reporters that the stars had revealed she was to wed in the following year.

Miss Garden has always been adept in obtaining personal publicity without cost, except to the feelings of her associates. Her tirades were the joy of reporters and there never was a time when she was loath to express herself on some subject or other.

STEALS COUE CUE

In 1926 she created an uproar in the lobby of the Copley Plaza hotel immediately after arriving in the city, by assailing the company's tour manager with vitriolic tongue because she had been billed for a Boston debut on a Wednesday matinee.

When M. Coue, father of "every day, in every way," was here, Mary injected her versatile personality into the meeting with newspapermen and successfully turned it into a Garden party.

Paris was always the first city of her heart, Chicago, where she managed the opera company for some years, was second, New York she tolerated and London disliked.

POLICE OFFICIALS ATTEND MRS. GAFFNEY'S FUNERAL

With many police officials and members of the rank and file attending, the funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Gaffney, wife of Lieut. William P. SURVEY MADE OF FIELD FOR EXPANSION

The first actual step in the development of the Boston Airport under the lease just signed was taken today by park department engineers who surveyed the East Boston field.

Expansion plans resulting from the survey will be passed upon by the city's airport committee and the Mayor, and work will begin at once.

The city council next week will receive from Mayor Nichols a program of expenditures in line with the development program.

Both Mayor Nichols and Governor Fuller today received from Henry I. Harriman, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, letters of congratulation upon the leasing of the field by the state to the city.

To the mayor, President Harriman wrote:

"For a relatively small amount expended in grading the area already above water and moving the buildings from the center of the field to its edge, Boston can secure a Class A airport which will undoubtedly take care of our needs for quite a few years. Then, as it needs further enlargement, areas already partially filled to approximately low water mark can easily be brought up to the level of the existing field and made available for flying use as fast as they are needed."

3 MORE CLUBS TO SEE NEWS FILM

Officials of three more leading women's organizations have accepted the invitation of the Boston Evening American for its members to be its special guests next week at Loew's State Theater to see the fascinating two-reel educational film, "The Making of a Newspaper."

These organizations are the Boston Home and School Association, of which Mrs. Nina N. [illegible] is president; Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, whose director is Mrs. Nelson W. Howard, until recently president of Professional Women's Club; and Republican City Committee of Boston, whose president is Mrs. Dora Emerson Wheeler.

All these women leaders are enthusiastic over the plan for their

WOMAN HELPS "DESTROY" LONDON IN AIR ATTACK

London, Aug. 16 (AP)—London was "bombed" again last night in air war maneuvers. And a woman participated. She is Cecile McAlery, flight commander of the Women's Royal Air Force during the war. She is said to be the first woman to participate in such an attack.

She rode with the attacking Eastland squadron which crossed the coast line over Whitstable.

It was soon caught by searchlights, but penetrated the capital's defenses and dropped scores of theoretical bombs on historic buildings. One was calculated to have destroyed the home of Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer.

GAY OLD TIME IN REV. DR. STRATON'S HOTEL

GIRL COP DARES DEATH SPYING ON DOPE RINGS

THIS IS TODAY, NOT A GLIMPSE OF BRET HARTE'S TIME

Photo shows the barroom in the Sterling Forest Hotel, Greenlake, N. Y., purchased by the Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton, well known New York Baptist minister, recently in the spotlight for his attacks on Governor Smith. William Hecht, the lessee, denies the liquor sold there is as old-fashioned as the bar. A reporter bought a quart and Straton was said to have complained against Hecht.

SHE TOYS WITH DEATH TO GET EVIDENCE

By LORENA A. HICKOK
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Aug. 16 (AP)—She is small and fluffy and feminine, about 25 years old, with brown bobbed hair that curls in soft, childish tendrils around her face.

And she has one of the most dangerous jobs in the entire New York police department—a job so dangerous that her superiors never discuss her by name with any outsiders. Keeping her identity as carefully guarded a secret as they can, they still look worried whenever they mention her and mutter, "Well, they'll get her some day."

She is attached to the narcotics division, this innocent looking young woman in a flowered chiffon dress. She has the rank and pay of a patrolman. Her job is to "get the evidence." She gets it. Some say she is the most valuable operative in the squad.

ON PERILOUS TRAILS

And she is one of the principal reasons why Police Commissioner Joseph A. Warren this week ordered six more women into the police department, bringing the total up to 125. A hundred and twenty-four of them work under direction of Mrs. Mary A. Sullivan, reporting at their headquarters on the second floor of the old police headquarters building, a few blocks away from Tombs prison.

But this "Lady Cop"—smallest and fluffiest and most feminine of them all—never appears there. Whenever she is about police headquarters, which is not very often, you'll find her down talking with the head of the narcotics division.

Hers is no daytime job. To get the evidence she goes where the evidence is—to cellars, garrets, back rooms of what used to be corner saloons, restaurants, and to luxuriously furnished "clubs."

DANGER IN COURTROOM.

Sometimes her work takes her along Fifth ave., and along Broadway. More often, though, you would find her in places where hardly another woman in New York would dream of going without an escort. She goes alone—and at night.

She hangs about with drug addicts until she finds out where the stuff is being bought. Then she buys some. Her associates arrest the seller, and she appears as a witness against him in court.

In those appearances on the witness stand lies her danger. Guard her name as closely as they can, the police cannot prevent its being overheard by anyone who cares to listen when she takes the stand.

NAB SUSPECT IN WILD CHASE

Worcester, Aug. 16 (AP)—A man who gave his name as Theodore Reynolds of Millbury, but who, police say, is Adlor Vanasse, 32, of North Brookfield, is in serious condition at City Hospital today, following an exciting chase through the streets of North Brookfield and an encounter with Chief of Police Daniel Moynihan of that town late last night.

Three shots were fired during the chase, but none took effect. Chief Moynihan finally caught his man, however, and when he resisted arrest, subdued him. The prisoner, it is claimed, fell during his flight. At City Hospital it was said he had a possible fracture of the skull.

Vanasse is charged with larceny of an automobile from Worcester.

Killed by Milk Train

Oxford, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—Maj. Joseph Russ of the U. S. army, was instantly killed today and Lieut.-Col. Edmund Butcher badly injured when their motor car was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad milk train.

ONE DEAD IN AIR CRASH AT SEA

St. Petersburg, Fla., Aug. 16 (AP)—The four survivors of a Pan-American Airways passenger plane in which one passenger was killed when it was forced down in the Gulf of Mexico off here last night were landed here early today by a coast guard patrol boat which took them off the tanker Ligonier.

Two, who were said to be members of the craft's crew of three, were taken to a hospital.

The dead man was Charles N. Ageton of Flushing, N. Y.

Details of how he met death, the extent of injuries of those taken to the hospital and their names were not revealed by officials of the Coast Guard base here.

It was learned that the airplane, which was said to have crashed on the water, some 120 miles west-southwest of here, sank soon after its occupants and the body of Ageton had been taken off by the Ligonier, near which it struck the water.

The plane was en route from Havana to Key West and was some distance off its course.

FORD, HATLESS, ON AUTO TOUR

With three male companions, hatless like himself, Henry Ford motored away from Wayside Inn at Sudbury today for a day's "whirl around the countryside."

The automobile magnate, with members of his family, arrived at the inn yesterday from Vermont where Mr. and Mrs. Ford took part in holding an old-time dancing party.

His companions on the trip today were strangers to newspapermen at the inn. The stopping places of the party was not given, but the program called for return to the historic wayside hostelry, now Ford's property, before dark.

BELGIUM WOULD MARK AKELEY'S JUNGLE GRAVE

New York, Aug. 16 (AP)—Permission to place a commemorate tablet of bronze on the tomb of the American explorer, Carl Akeley, who lies buried where he died in the heart of the Belgian Congo, has been requested by the Belgian government in a communication just received by the explorer's widow, Mrs. Mary L. Jobe Akeley.

M. Jaspar, prime minister of Belgium and minister of the colonies, has made the request through Prince Albert de Ligne, Belgian ambassador to the United States. M. Jaspar says: "This action is desired as a token of the admiration of the Belgian government for the great American scientist."

'I'M BACHELOR,' SAYS KEARNS; PAYS ALIMONY

New York, Aug. 16—Mystery and uncertainty today cloaked the identity of a woman ill of food poisoning in a Long Beach, N. Y., hospital, known as Mrs. Jack Kearns.

She declares she is the wife of the former manager of Jack Dempsey. Her condition was described as critical by hospital physicians. It was said that several days ago she ate some sea food which did not agree with her and that complications set in.

Kearns, in a dispatch from Los Angeles is quoted as saying: "I am not married. There was a Miss Edith Angel, who was a friend of mine in New York about nine years ago. We were friends for a couple of years, but were never married. I am still a bachelor and always have been."

Jacob Klein, attorney for the woman, said: "If Kearns isn't married, then why did he enter into an agreement for separate maintenance of his wife and agree to pay her $500 a month?"

Mrs. Charles Schneider, a sister of the patient, said that the latter had been married to Kearns and that she was receiving alimony from him.

New York newspaper clippings in April, 1928, quote Kearns as saying he was married.

Friends of Kearns in New York said that the girl was known as La Gana, a dancer, and once appeared on the same vaudeville bill with Dempsey. They said that she and Kearns separated about four years ago.

MARINES HEMMING IN SANDINO'S REBEL BAND

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, Aug. 16 (AP)—American marines are believed to have hemmed in the forces of the rebel Gen. Augustino Sandino along the Coco River near the Honduran boundary. Airplanes are flying daily over the region searching out the rebel positions and occasionally bombing them, while marines in boats and afoot make their way through the jungle hunting the insurgents.

Capt. Merritt A. Edson of Vermont has led a marine detachment in two victorious attacks on the rebels near Espanolita on the Coco River. The marines killed four insurgents, wounded one and captured five. There were no marine casualties.

SEVEN MEXICAN REBELS DIE BY FIRING SQUAD

Mexico City, Aug. 16 (AP)—Dispatches from San Luis Potosi today said seven insurgents had been executed after a summary court-martial.

Fourteen insurgents have been killed by troops under command of Gen. Hediodoro Charis, military commandant in Colima. Eleven were killed at Los Platanos when a band under Marcos Torea was dispersed.

WORCESTER TO CELEBRATE FOR OLYMPIC GIRL

Worcester, Aug. 16 (AP)—Encouraged by the precedent established by Vancouver, B. C., when that Canadian city acted to show its appreciation of Percy Williams, the dominion's dual sprint victor in the games at Amsterdam, Worcester admirers of Miss Albina Osipowich, Worcester's only Olympic champion, hope to duplicate that compliment and create a scholarship fund for the young Lithuanian swimming marvel.

When Mayor O'Hara's committee on reception meets this afternoon to arrange plans for welcoming Miss Osipowich home next week, a representative of St. Casimir's Church, of which she is a member, will offer a proposal for a scholarship fund.

The president of the St. Casimer Choir Society says his organization is anxious to donate money to the fund. He said that all social groups of the church are arranging a celebration in honor of the Olympic champion, at which it is expected a considerable sum will be realized.

The city, because of existing legislation, cannot appropriate funds for a demonstration or award for athletic champions, but the general expression is that civic societies and officials are desirous of joining in any movement that will result in a manifestation of pride in the North high school senior's achievements.

AWNING FIRE CAUSES COP TO LOSE HIS SLEEP

It was too hot to sleep today anyway, but Motorcycle Officer Thomas McCormick of the Newton police had a fire to warm him in addition. McCormick was sleeping in the Marion Apartments, Newton Corner, on his day off, when the crackle of flames and choking smoke awakened him.

He discovered that the awning outside his window, was ablaze and the window casing also was burning.

With pans of water he checked the fire until firemen arrived. Then he went wearily to headquarters to make his report of "duty at a fire."

NEW BEDFORD FISHING SCHOONER IS BURNED

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 16 (AP)—The New Bedford, Mass., swordfishing schooner, Mary F. Ruth, was burned to the water's edge while warped to the Government wharf at Isaac's harbor. Capt. Ben Bishop and crew of seven men escaped. A backfire from the engine of the lighting plant caught some crude oil and gasoline that the schooner had just taken on board, and in a few minutes the vessel was ablaze from stem to stern. She was owned by Hatheway & Co. of New Bedford.

KING GEORGE'S YACHT IN CRASH; OUT OF RACE

Cowes, England, Aug. 16 (AP)—The king's yacht, Britannia, collided with her escort the minesweeper Selkirk in Cowes Roads today and was unable to compete in the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's regatta. King George learned of the accident to his yacht at Aberdeen, Scotland, as he was enroute to Balmoral Castle. Speedy repairs may enable the Britannia to race at Southsea tomorrow.

Filling an ashcan with water and donning her bathing suit, 11-year-old Rita Hanley of Prescott st., Watertown, climbed in. Her heel and bended knee wedged her in and she couldn't get out until a fireman living nearby, hearing her screams, cut open the barrel and gave her enough space to stand up and get out.

HUNT FUGITIVE CONVICT IN MEDFORD

Police of the Metropolitan District Commission with officers from three cities, early today searched the vicinity of Middlesex ave., Medford, near the Revere Beach Parkway, on information that William F. App, escaped State Prison convict, had been seen there.

Information came from the night man at Merton's Garage, Middlesex av., where App formerly kept his car. The employe was a witness against App at his trial.

The man, who seemed much alarmed, telephoned the police that about 1:30 an apparent stranger entered the garage to use the pay station telephone. The night man, known as "Pal," whose real name was not given out, said he paid no attention at first, but after a time thought he recognized the man's voice.

According to his report he looked the stranger over and recognized him as App, but did not speak to him.

After completing his telephone conversation, App left the garage, and "Pal" waited 20 minutes before notifying the police.

Every available officer from the departments of Medford, Everett and Malden, and from the Metropolitan Park division, was sent to the garage and raked the neighborhood, but without success. They discovered, however, that the factory of Mechling Bros., in Wellington had been broken into and a suit of lightweight clothing taken.

The police doubt that a hunted man such as App is would enter a garage where he is known, to use the telephone. Although the phone has no booth, "Pal" did not overhear App's talk.

Trail "Master Mind" of $10,000,000 Bank Gang

New York, Aug. 16 (INS)—Directed by a single master mind, a nationwide gang of forgers has mulcted banks in the United States of $10,000,000 in the past 12 months, it was asserted today by Hugh D. Combs, general superintendent of claims of the Fidelity and Guaranty Co.

His detectives are trying to trap the master forger and smash the highly centralized racket. Combs said he believes the $496,000 embezzlement charged to Cornelius Callahan, formerly a secretary of th Bancitaly Corporation; $106,000 forgeries at the Manufacturers' Trust Co.; the $200,000 peculations laid to the Donahue gang and another $500,000 job here were work of the gang.

He professed to know nothing of reports from Toledo that New York and Burns detectives are there hunting a trunk said to hold $500,000 securities allegedly stolen here by the Moe Rashkin gang.

THUGS ROB RICH IMPORTER OF $25,000

Keene, N. H., Aug 16—Imported linens valued at $25,000 were the loot secured by three daring automobile bandits, believed to be from Massachusetts, who held up the car of S. E. Kehlah, a wealthy Syracuse (N. Y.) importer, as he was driving along a lonely road in the town of Dublin.

At the point of revolvers the bandits forced the importer from his machine, and then, as he stood helplessly by, they transferred the linens to their own machine and drove off.

The bandits, all described as being under 25 years of age, had followed the importer throughout the day, apparently well aware of the value of the cargo his machine carried. At several roadside stands where the Syracuse man stopped to make purchases, the bandit car also pulled up, but Kehlan's suspicions were not aroused until the trio's car forced his own machine to the side of the road and a moment later he was peering into the muzzles of two revolvers.

Kehlah, who spends several months of each year in Europe purchasing the choicest products of European looms, was on his way to the Pine Grove Springs Hotel at Spofford, when he was held up.

Kehlah ran to a nearby farmhouse and telephoned the police. Sheriff Charles Knight of Marlboro, Sheriff R. E. Tucker of Troy and Sheriff Henry Frechette were notified and immediately drove to the scene of the holdup. The importer told the sheriffs he was so badly excited by the holdup that he failed to notice the registration number on the car the bandits used. His description of his assailants was also very vague.

ATTY. JAMES V. DONAHUE DIES OF AUTO INJURIES

James Vincent Donahue of 3 Edge Hill st., Jamaica Plain, is dead as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident on the Newburyport Turnpike last week. He was a prominent young attorney and was associated with Judge Connolly of Waltham. Atty. Donahue was a graduate of the Cheverus Parochial School, Jamaica Plain; B. C. High and Northeastern University, 1926.

J. V. Donahue

He is survived by his mother, a brother, Thomas, and three sisters, Mary, Mildred and Christina. The funeral mass will be at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Centre st., Jamaica Plain, Saturday, at 9 a. m.

BAY STATE GIRL KILLED, 1 HURT IN QUEBEC CRASH

Whitinsville, Aug. 16 (AP)—Word was received here today of the death of Miss Eca Beane and serious injury of Miss Catherine Perry, both of this village, in a collision between two autos near Abbotsford, Quebec. They were on vacation in Miss Perry's car. Miss Beane, a graduate of Simmons College, was employed in the offices of the Whitin Machine Company. Miss Perry has been employed as a nurse in the home of Alec Gunn.

TRANSATLANTIC 'PEDAL BOAT' LEAVES GERMANY

Cuxhaven, Germany, Aug. 16 (AP)—Header and Hirschberg, able seamen, attempting to cross the Atlantic in 42 days in a "bicycle boat," left here today for Plymouth, Eng. They took five days for an uneventful trip down the Elbe River from Hamburg. They will ship water and provisions at Plymouth. They intend, if possible, to keep their boat going day and night by alternating at the foot pedals its sole source of power.

Gun-Girl, 15, Is Glad She Slew Man, 59, for 'Vengeance'

New York, Aug. 16 (INS)—Mary Arechia, 15-year-old gun-girl, killer of Saferio Pantellina, 59, today was "glad that he is dead."

The victim of her bullets died this morning in St. Vincent's Hospital.

Mary, who was to be arraigned during the day with her father, Joseph, on a homicide charge, was satisfied that she had washed away the stain upon her honor. She had followed the vengeance code which demands a life for dishonor.

The girl, who charges that Pantellina attacked her, insists that she was alone when she shot him.

Nancy Miller May Lose Her $50,000 Annuity

London, Aug. 16 (INS)—The Maharahnee of Indore, formerly Nancy Anne Miller of Seattle, Wash., may lose the $50,000 annuity settled on her when she married the maharajah.

A dispatch to the Indian News Service from Bombay says that the regency council of Indore plans legal steps to force the ex maharajah to return $3,000,000 he is alleged to have taken from the State Treasury, or to forego an annual allowance of $300,000 granted him by the council. The $3,000,000 is said to represent a famine fund that the State kept for emergencies. It is charged the maharajah appropriated it in 1917 "for safekeeping," and retained possession of it when he gave up his throne.

The $50,000 annuity granted the maharahnee is a part of the $300,000 the maharajah receives.

MOSES WORRIED BY WALSH AND BAY STATE

Portland, Ore., Aug. 15 (AP)—Senator George Moses of New Hampshire, passing through Portland today, told newspapermen "this is going to be an election of surprises." Asked to enlarge upon this statement, he said:

"Well, it isn't possible for us to carry New York by a million votes, nor Illinois by a million votes, nor some other states by such big majorities, but it isn't the votes in a state that count—it's the votes in the Electoral College. And I'm looking for a big majority in the Electoral College."

"I'm hurrying back East just as fast as I can to look after my zone of activity. I have 11 unruly states to work on. Yes, unruly is the word, but I don't doubt that Hoover will carry them. Still, it's a fight and a good one and a hard one. There's Massachusetts, for instance—it's a puzzle, but we'll win."

Questioned concerning criticism of himself because he had not predicted the election of the Republican senatorial candidate in Massachusetts, Mr. Moses, who is to have charge of the New England group in the coming election, said:

"Uh-huh—but why not be reasonable? There's Senator Walsh, who has been elected repeatedly to offices and to the Senate. One must take that into consideration. Walsh is a strong Democrat. Of course, I want to see as many Republicans elected to the Senate as possible. We've got a chance to shoot at 15 in this election and a pretty good chance to pot nine of the places for Republicans."

Sen. George to Confer With Smith Today

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16 (INS)—Cheered by news brought to him by former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, N. C., that the south would remain Democratic, Gov. Al Smith today was to obtain additional information of the political situation south of the Mason-Dixon line from Sen. Walter F. George, of Georgia.

Sen. George will be the third Democratic leader from the south with whom the governor has conferred at the executive mansion in as many days. The first was Sen. Carter Glass of Virginia, author of the dry plank in the Democratic platform.

Sen. Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, is due here tomorrow to discuss the western political situation with the governor.

Before he went into conference with the governor, Daniels said he did not feel that Smith's stand for modification of the Volstead Act, as expressed in the telegram he sent to the Democratic national convention, was a repudiation of the platform.

"At the close of the convention I said I did not think it necessary for Gov. Smith to send a telegram," he said. "That was my judgment then and I haven't seen any reason to change it. I do not construe the governor's action as a repudiation of the platform, but we will let it go at that."

"A good many people think that much depends upon what Gov. Smith says in his acceptance speech about prohibition as to what will happen in the south."

Within a day or two the governor is expected to issue a joint reply to the Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, New York, and William Allen White, Kansas editor, for what they have said about his political career.

HOOVER SEEKS 'SILENT VOTE' IN THE EAST

Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 16 (INS)—Convinced that he can be elected only by winning the independents, Herbert Hoover will start east tonight to wage a campaign for the so-called "silent vote."

The Republican nominee will strive for the support of women's organizations, the organized forces of social reform and the business element, which frequently ignores elections. He will seek to arouse the interest of that large class who take their politics lightly and go to the ballot box only seldom. If he can get them to the polls and persuade them to vote Republican, Hoover feels assured of the election.

Hoover rested today. He will reach Los Angeles at 1 p. m. tomorrow to participate in a public reception at the City Hall and then attend the Pacific Southwest Exposition at Long Beach.

His proposed visit to his running mate, Senator Curtis, at Topeka, has been cancelled.

Hoover will reach his birthplace, West Branch, Ia., early Tuesday. He will spend that day, Wednesday and Thursday in Iowa, and hopes to reach Washington by Saturday afternoon.

13 KILLED IN MINE BLAST

Coalport, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—The sole survivor of 14 men trapped in the No. 3 mine of the Irvona Coal & Coke Company when an explosion occurred late yesterday, today told the story of the blast.

The survivor, Marina Coccia, one of 150 men in the mine was with the 14 in the section where the blast occurred. The other 136, in another section, escaped injury.

"I was with W. H. Mays," Coccia said. "We heard a dull thud and thought the dynamo had let loose. We were thrown to the ground and smelled gas and felt a terrific heat.

"We ran toward the tunnel exit, but were forced back and reaching an entry Mays dashed to the left. Something sent me to the right. I escaped, poor Mays is dead."

LORD IVERCLYDE, RICHEST OF PEERS, SUING WIFE

London, Aug. 16 (AP)—British society was startled today by an announcement that Lord Iverclyde, one of the country's richest peers, has filed an action against his wife in the Court of Sessions at Edinburgh. The nature of the action was not disclosed.

Lord Iverclyde inherited more than $10,000,000 when he succeeded his father in 1919. His marriage to Olive Sainsbury was one of the leading social events of 1926. One incident of the wedding was the failure of Lord Iverclyde to appear until 15 minutes after the time set for the ceremony.

5 PERISH AS YACHT SINKS, AFIRE, IN LAKE

Ottawa, Aug. 16 (AP)—The French newspaper Le Droit received word today that the Rev. J. D. Dubec and four others were drowned in Lake Nipissing when the yacht in which they were passengers caught fire. There were six occupants of the boat, and only one was said to have been saved.

Find Monster 'Big as Woolworth Building'

Peking, Aug. 16 (AP)—The head bones of a prehistoric monster unearthed by Roy Chapman Andrews at the southern edge of the Gobi desert, Mongolia, were described by him today as indicating the existence of a colossal animal "about the size of the Woolworth Buildnig if the building were in a horizontal position."

The Woolworth building in New York city is 792 feet high.

Dr. Andrews, who is the leader of the fourth central Asiatic expedition, said:

"This was our biggest strike—one of the most interesting finds ever made. This entire area is rich in fossils. We found a monster in the same area in 1925. The saddle-shaped, headed creature discovered shaped headed creature discovered haps to be the great-grandfather of the 1925 monster."

The head is very broad and a peculiar feature is that its nose narrows in the middle and gradually broadens toward the nostrils.

Dr. Andrews considered his finds vied with his finding of dinosaur eggs in 1922. Discoveries included numerous baluchitherium fossils and splendid skulls of a new type of nasal-horned titanotheriidae, quite different from any of the North American species.

The collection of fossils fills eighty cases. It was brought intact to Peking in automobiles although the expedition encountered floods between Kalgan and Peking against which they battled for twenty-four hours to save themselves and their relics. The journey from Kalgan to Peking required four days. Half of the expedition returned earlier than had been expected owing to the intense heat of the desert which exploded several cases of gasoline, causing a shortage of fuel.

The baluchiterium was a monster quadruped of prehistoric times related to the rhinoceros. Fossil remains of the animal were discovered in the Gobi desert, Baluchistan, in 1922 and indicate that it stood about 10 feet high and was 15 feet long. titanotheriidae were a tertiary family of hoofed mammals.

BEER JOINT RAIDED NEAR HOUSTON CHURCH

Houston, Tex., Aug. 16 (AP)—When officers raided a beer joint next door to the First Church of Christ here they obligingly waited until after prayer meeting and then permitted the Rev. Flaville Colley and his congregation to break up 1600 bottles of beer and pour out an additional 200 gallons. While waiting the police lounged about the house and answered telephone calls, taking orders for beer from all parts of the town.

LARGEST ZEPPELIN GOES INTO AIR SEPTEMBER 3

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 16—The world's newest and biggest Zepplin, the Count Zepplin, will make its first trial flight on or about Monday, September 3, it was learned today.

If the trial flights are successful and weather conditions are favorable the giantress of the skies may leave Friedrichshafen for Lakehurst, N. J., on September 10.

The tests have been delayed by unforeseen difficulties. Dr. Hugo Eckener of the Zeppelin works and builder of the dirigible, has been ill and is going to Switzerland for a two weeks' holiday.

The chief obstacle in the way of early test flights has been the failure to obtain fuel.

According to tentative plans the balloon will make two round trip flights over the Atlantic yearly.

Motors are now being delivered for the first trial flights.

SEN. SCHALL DECLARES HE WON'T SUPPORT HOOVER

Minneapolis, Aug. 16 (AP)—United States Senator Thomas D. Schall, Republican, of Minnesota, announced today that he will take no active part in the campaign for Herbert Hoover, the party's nominee for President. The blind Senator's decision not to support Hoover is due to his failure to agree with the presidential candidate's stand on farm relief. He will not support Governor Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic nominee, either, he said.

WALDRON'S CASINO OPENS AUGUST 25

Waldron's Casino Theater will open the new season with a matinee Saturday afternoon, August 25, when the "Frenchy Follies Burlesquers," a company of comedians, dancers, singers and a large chorus will be the chief attraction.

Charles H. Waldron, owner and manager, has announced that the same policy which was in effect last year will be followed this season. This includes the reduced prices.

OUST HAVERHILL WIRE INSPECTOR AFTER 13 YEARS

Haverhill, Aug. 16 (AP)—Harry F. Small, for 13 years city inspector of wires, was dismissed today by the City Council. He was found guilty of incompetency, favoritism, conduct unbecoming a city official and issuing permits to unlicensed workmen. The charges were brought by several electricians.

ASK MAYOR TO AID PAYMENTS TO VETERANS

The intervention of Mayor Nichols is being sought today in the storm that has broken about City Auditor Rupert C. Carven over his ruling that needy war veterans in Boston must go without relief until the Boston City Council appropriates money for each individual case.

Officers of half a dozen war veterans' organizations declared today that they would fight the Carven ruling to the last ditch. They openly declared that drastic reprisals would be made against the administration if the ruling was permitted to stand.

For 20 years needy war veterans in Boston and the members of their family have been promptly assisted when the Soldiers Relief Department became convinced of their needs.

The soldiers were given the relief required and council later was asked to pass the legislation making legal the expenditure of the funds.

The new ruling, however, provides that the cases must be reported individually to the City Council and that that body was to enact suitable legislation before the city funds is paid over to the veterans.

Commissioner John J. Murphy, who has charge of the administration of the relief funds, was plainly displeased with the city auditor's ruling.

"You can't feed hungry war veterans and their families with red tape," he declared. "For 20 years we have been meeting the needs of these veterans as they arose and everybody seemed satisfied with the system."

During the first six months of this year, he said, the city has paid out in soldiers' relief $40,000 more than was spent in the first six months of 1927, and although $250,000 was appropriated for this item this year, there will be a deficit of from $30,000 to $55,000 at the end of the year, which must be met by transfer from other departments which end the year with a surplus.

Bachelor veterans get the old army pay, $30 a month, while married veterans with about six children might get as much as $100 a month. Because so many veterans have been unable to obtain work this year, the demands on the city treasury have mounted.

It has been the custom of the commissioner to dole out the aid twice a month and submit the bills to the City Council for approval monthly, but Auditor Carven, laying down the law, insists that this method is illegal, because money cannot be spent until the expenditure has been approved by the Council.

Carven stated that he is willing to approve the payment to the soldiers weekly, if they desired it, but it will be necessary to have the Council approve the payroll weekly.

Murphy will appeal to the Council for an emergency appropriation of $500, so that he will be able to take care of veterans in dire need without delay, without waiting until the cases have been subjected to the usual investigation, lasting two or three weeks.

AUTO SKIDS IN SAND AND THREE ARE HURT

Fryeburg, Me., Aug. 16 (INS—Three persons were seriously injured today when an automobile rounded the main street—Lovell's rd. curve, skidded in the sand and brought up against a telephone pole.

The injured were:

John P. Heffernan of Montreal, Dr. F. J. Ducett of Montreal and a young woman.

Cuts Off Own Toes So Well Doctor Isn't Needed

Prince George, B. C., Aug. 16 (AP)—A trooper who amputated four of his toes with a kitchen knife when they became frozen last winter has arrived here for surgical attention but was told he had done the job so well no further treatment was needed.

While inspecting traps on the upper Finlay river, J. O'Mera suffered frost bite. Returning to his cabin, 50 miles from the nearest neighbor, he noticed after a few days that infection had set in. A kitchen knife was the only instrument available for amputation and it took O'Mera three days to perform the operation. After the toes had been cut off he washed the wounds with an antiseptic and bound them up.

TRUCKMAN IS STABBED IN CHURCH WAR

Lowell, Aug. 16—Three men wantonly inflicted stab wounds in each of his shoulders at Dummer st. and Broadway, Elistrates Kahumanis, 27, a truckman, told police. A jackknife was used in the stabbing. The men, he says, went away hurriedly in an automobile.

Peter Afestalakes was arrested later charged with assault upon Kahumanis and was ordered held in $500 security until today. Athos Afostalakos and William Malcourites were arrested on the same charge and furnished $300 security.

Kahumanis says he had no dispute with the men and as a truckman he had been giving attention to his private business.

The police fear continued trouble in the Greek colony.

Rev. Joaquin Malahias, head of one of the two factions of Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church here, who have been at odds over control of the church for several weeks, was set upon and badly beaten by a crowd of men.

The priest was cut and bruised before he escaped by jumping into a passing taxicab. He went to police headquarters where he was given protection, while policemen rounded up several men said to be members of the other faction in the church controversy, who were alleged to have been involved in the attack.

The differences among the members of the congregation, of which Rev. Joaquin Malahias was the pastor, developed some time ago, and are now pending in court here. The faction opposed to the priest is now in control of the church and for some time has maintained some of its members in the building day and night.

Women Head Both N. Y. State Political Committees

New York, Aug. 16 (INS)—The sudden death of George K. Morris, chairman of the Republican state committee, elevates Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, daughter of Nicholas Murray Butler, to the state chairmanship of the party.

With Mrs. Cornelius O'Day, chairman of the Democratic state committee by virtue of the resignation of Lieut. Gov. Corning, women for the first time in history head the state committees of the two parties. Both Miss Butler and Mrs. O'Day had been vice-chairmen of their committees.

6 DIE IN HEAT WAVE: HOPE FOR RAIN

Winchester, drowned in Wedge pond in that town.

Patsy George, 23, Highland st., Woburn, drowned in Winter pond, Winchester.

Francis Flatley, 7, Manchester, Mass., drowned at Masconomo Park, that town.

An unidentified man, about 32, five feet eight inches, whose body is at Southern mortuary, found dead, a heat victim, in a field off Massachusetts ave. and Shirley st., Roxbury.

Two electrical workers and Lieut. A. J. McMahon of the Somerville fire department saved Bagwell from being dashed to death in Somerville when he succumbed to heat on the roof of St. Ann's Church, at Medford and Thurston sts., Somerville.

RESCUED IN SOMERVILLE

He rolled down the pitched roof and when only a foot from the edge and a 40-foot drop to a brick walk, the snow guard held his unconscious form.

The electrical workers, seeing his plight, raced up inside the church, got out on the roof, descended the slope and held him while neighbors notified the fire department.

Begwell had partially revived when a ladder was thrown up against the building and Lieut. McMahon ascended. McMahon assisted Bagwell to the ground and he was taken to Somerville Hospital.

Starting from a low mark of 78 degrees at 1 a. m., the mercury climbed today until at 1 p. m. it had reached 91, five degrees above the mark registered at the same hour yesterday.

The mercury did not hit 91 yesterday until 7 p. m.

The heat was another boon to merchants and concession operators at beachs, however, and long before noon it was estimated that there were 15,000 persons on Revere Beach, with throngs pouring in every hour.

RUSH AT BATHHOUSE

During the first hour the State bathhouse was open today 893 locker keys were given out and the attendants set themselves for a record rush.

The effect of the continued heat wave was even apparent in the water, which registered a comfortable temperature of 71 degrees at noon.

Showers and possible thunder storms tonight will result—if they do arrive—from the converging of two storm areas, one from Tennessee and the other from Nebraska.

Official forecast fro Boston and vicinity: Increasing cloudiness, followed by showers late tonight or Friday; not much change in temperature; light variable winds, mostly south to west.

FOILS DARING JAIL BREAK

With two of the bars of his cell already sawed through and an aperture made in the wall leading to the cell adjoining his own and occupied by another convict, Stephen H. Hoppe might have succeeded in a daring escape for himself and other prisoners from the Dedham jail, had not his efforts been discovered by jail attendants. Hoppe is a notorious burglar and jail breaker. He is now being held for trial for the murder of a Quincy policeman.

Had not another prisoner, a trusty, given jail attendants a hint of what was under way, it is thought that Hoppe and his accomplices would have succeeded in their daring scheme to the extent of at least breaking out of their cells into the corridor.

The trusty heard suspicious noises emanating from the cell adjoining that of Hoppe. This cell is occupied by a prisoner by the name of Aldredge.

BROCKTON ENJOINED FROM PAYING $1203

The payment of $1203 by the city of Brockton to various persons in Maine for searching for the bodies of eight residents of Brockton who were drowned in Moosehead lake last spring by the sinking of a motor boat is objected to by 10 taxpayers, who have brought a bill in equity in the superior court to restrain Mayor Harold D. Bent of Brockton, the board of aldermen, City Treasurer Calvin R. Barrett and City Auditor Chester T. Swanson from paying out the money.

Judge Qua of the superior court in Boston issued a temporary restraining order, which continues in effect until further order of the court.

TWO BOSTON COLLEGE BOYS JOIN JESUITS

John Kelleher, son of Jeremiah Kelleher, 111 Bennett st., Brighton, and Leo R. Muldoon, son of Mrs. Sarah Muldoon, 26 Asticou rd., Jamaica Plain, entered the Jesuit order at Shadowbrook. Both young men were tendered receptions by relatives and friends, prior to taking their departure. They attended

ANTI-REELECTION PARTY IS FORMED

Mexico City, Aug. 16—The latest development in the political situation was the announcement of the formation of an "anti-re-election" party, unalterably opposed to the continuance of any president in office for more than one term. It is understood that the new party will oppose any efforts to keep President Calles in office after his present term expires on December 1.

said, and removed the back seat of his automobile, going off without replacing it. The cross-examination by Dist. Atty. Bushnell proceeded as follows:

Q.—How many bootleg joints do you run? A.—I don't run any.

Scharton—I object. That is not material.

Q.—You're a bootlegger, aren't you? You served nine months as a result of the last Brickbottom raid, didn't you?

Scharton—I object.

Bushnell: The officer ought to be promoted, I'd say.

Scharton: That's what you would say. But if he'd stopped me I'd have cracked him over the head.

"I'D SMASH YOU"

Bushnell: If you tried that you wouldn't get away with it with those boys.

Scharton: "Yes, and I'd try it with you if you tried to search my car without a warrant."

Bushnell: "You wouldn't be attorney-general if you did. You'd be stark and cold."

Scharton: 'If there is one thing I'm not afraid of you, it's you."

During this interchange the district attorney and the counsel for 22 residents of the blockaded districts stood but a few inches apart.

Raymond Cicicanaldi, who was riding with Patalano at the time of the alleged assault, was called to corroborate the latter's testimony. Bushnell again cross-examined.

HAND IS INJURED

Q.—What's your business? A.—Grossery and dressing live poultry.

Q.—Where? A.—16 Medford st.

Q.—Aha! How many times has your place been raided? A.—Never once.

Q.—Why were you with Patalano, do you work for him. A.—I was just riding around with him.

Clerk Bradley inquired of Scharton if both cases were the same, with no resulting injuries and the attorney pointed out that Patalano had testified the trooper hurt his (Patalano's) hand.

THREE SAIL FOR SPAIN IN 12-FOOT CRAFT

New York, Aug. 16 (AP)—The 32-foot motor boat Banfield, with three men aboard, chugged away from the Columbia Yacht Club pier, Hudson river, this afternoon on an attempted trip to Spain, 3,200 miles away. Her crew comprised George V. Brothers, 25, owner, John A. Brothers, 21, and Charles A. Banfield, 28. The Brothers are sons Assistant District Attorney George N. Brothers.

The Banfield, powered with a 35 horsepower motor, will go to Bermuda, The Azores, lisbon, Portugal, and Santander or Cadiz, Spain.

2 Boys Burned to Death

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 16 (INS)—Two boys were burned to death when fire destroyed the Casino at Harvey's Lake, a summer resort near here, early today.

'LONE WOLF' IS BLAMED FOR ATTACKS

A youth of 21 is being sought by police authorities throughout Greater Boston as a "lone wolf," who during the past two months has attacked or annoyed at least 25 young girls in the Andrew sq. section of South Boston.

The youth, according to the police, has never attempted any violence on his victims but he has entered South Boston homes with apparent impunity, ripping and slashing the night clothing from his victims as they lay asleep.

A number of girls who have complained to the police tell of being approached by the "Wolf" as they entered their homes at night. Others have reported that they have been awakened during the hours of night by the stranger bending over their beds destroying their garments.

In almost every instance the description of the unusual criminal is the same. He is said by his victims to be not more than 21 years of age, about five feet seven inches, tall and of light complexion. He always affects the same garb in his nocturnal operations — white shirt with soft collar, dark trousers, black shoes, gray cap and no coat.

Following report of an attack made on 14-year-old Ethel Edwards of No. 33 Washburn st., South Boston, police inspectors drove to a camp at Billerica and interviewed a youth who is spending the summer vacation there. The police were satisfied the lad is not the "Wolf" and he was not taken into custody.

COURT EXONERATES FATAL AUTO DRIVER

Truro, N. S., Aug. 16—Frank J. Higgins of Worcester, Mass., who struck and fatally injured Frank Hughes, of Halifax st., on Monday was exonerated by Magistrate Cluney in Halifax police court.

Higgins showed visible signs of emotion and at times wept openly in court.

NEWSBOYS PICK 'STARS AND STRIPES' FOR SONG

Boston newsboys patriotically chose "The Stars and Stripes Forever" when asked to select a number in which their band will be led next Sunday by John Philip Sousa, who is to be a guest of the Burrough's Newsboys' Foundation. The selection was almost unanimous.

Mourning Collie Is Electrocuted to End Suffering

Washington, Aug. 16—To end his grief and mourning over the loss of his master, Erich Matus, who with his wife was drowned near here 10 days ago, Pal, a collie, was electrocuted at the Washington Animal Rescue Home.

The dog was 13 years old and a pet. He had never been separated from his owners for more than a few hours at a time during his life.

GIRLS SAFE IN AUTO PLUNGE

The Goddess of Luck perched on the radiator of the automobile in which two Winthrop army nurses Janette Bleck and Anna Porter went for a ride.

The girls are attached to the Army hospital at Fort Banks. When their car reached Nahant ave., Winthrop, the girl who was driving accidentally threw the car into reverse and it backed over a 50-foot embankment. The car remained upright in its wild descent and the girls emerged unhurt.

'OMAN VOTE IS 1928 FACTOR

OVER HAS SLIGHT EDGE WITH THE FAIR SEX

hicago, Aug. 16—If the women vote in November as they arking the straw ballots in the nation-wide poll being by the Herald and Examiner and other Hearst news-s, they will be the deciding factor in naming the next lent.

are not voting with the men me.

y politicians have claimed e women voters did not think ndently and that the only of giving woman the ballot bestow two votes on every d man. But the straw votes twenty-four states recorde in able printed today indicates rong the professionals are.

aref study of the more than votes received thus far as the following interesting per-es:

ert Hoover has received 50.9 ent of the straws registered hout the nation, but of the vote he has received but 48.3 nt. But how the women are ng their ballots for him! Of llots of the fair ones, he has er cent.

th has 49.1 per cent of the national total, 51.7 per cent of the men's vote and only 43.6 of the women's ballots.

Republican managers have claimed from the start that Hoover would win the women's vote and the straws are blowing that way.

To get closer to home, Hoover has 57.7 per cent of the vote in Illinois with more than two-thirds of the counties represented. He has received 52.9 per cent of the men's vote and 56.8 per cent of the women's. Smith has 45.3 of the total vote, 47.1 of the men's, but when it comes to the women's expression, this portion falls away to 43.2.

Let us move in a bit closer and see what is happening in Chicago. Here Smith has the majority of the men's ballots, with 50.5 per cent to 49.5 per cent for Hoover, but he has received but 47.3 of the women's straws, as compared to 52.7 per cent granted Hoover. The Republican has a slight lead on the combined men and women's vote with 50.9 per cent to 49.1 for Smith.

MARYLAND FOR SMITH

In Maryland the Democratic candidate has 2867 men's votes to 2653 for Hoover, but the Republican has 1677 women's votes to 814 for his rival. Outside Baltimore, the ratio is even more against Smith, his women's vote being 58 to his rival's 231.

In San Francisco, Hoover received but 2858 men's votes, while Smith has 3889. Of the women's votes, Hoover has 4687 to 3692 for the Democrat. In Los Angeles, strongly Republican normally, the women's vote is Hoover, 974; Smith, 271.

Going into Governor Smith's own state, the city of Syracuse furnishes a striking example of Hoover's strength with the women. There the men's vote is divided, Hoover, 4730; Smith, 4556, but the women's division is Hoover, 4134; Smith, 2741.

SMITH GAINS IN REPUBLICAN STRONGHOLDS

With Herbert Hoover still holding his lead over Governor Al Smith in the New England States, outside of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, a slight gain was noted today for the Democratic candidate for President, in Republican strongholds, in the straw vote being conducted nation-wide by the Hearst newspapers.

These gains were recorded in the larger cities of Vermont, Maine and New Hampshire. Hoover likewise entered the Democratic centers of Rhode Island. The increases of both candidates were, however, not large enough to offset the lead established by Hoover in the three above-mentioned States, neither did Smith's entrance into the Rhode Island figures affect the lead Hoover has over him in the grand total of all the New England States.

To date, the Smith strength seems to be principally in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. This, of course, includes Boston in the former State and Providence and Woonsocket in the latter.

These two centers have piled up a lead for the New York Governor, which the Hoover forces are trying to offset by the vote of the three States to the north of them, namely Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine.

It is quite apparent, according to the vote tabulated to date, that the Smith strength is chiefly centered in the larger cities throughout New England. This is also true in Republican States. The towns all through New England seem to be for Hoover.

The larger cities, or the northern sections of all the New England States, have not as yet been polled, but judging from the early returns of those already received, it appears that Hoover has the edge on the Smith voters.

In every one of the New England States the ballots show a surprising number of men and women who did not vote in 1924. This is a serious question for both parties to ponder over. Which way will this vote swing.

RESULT IN OHIO PRIMARY FIGHT STILL DOUBTED

Columbus, O., Aug. 16 (AP)—With Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati Republican and Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent, Democrat picked by Ohio voters to make the November race for governor, political observers already are predicting a battle of even greater intensity than that witnessed in the Republican primary between Cooper and Congressman James T. Begg of Sandusky.

The neck-and-neck race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination between Cooper and Begg went into Ohio political history as one of the most spectacular on record, with the final result still questioned by supporters of the Sandusky congressman, who await the complete returns from the secretary of state. It is doubtful whether the official vote for each candidate will be known before next week.

DRY CANDIDATE WINS

Complete unofficial returns compiled by the Associated Press gave Cooper, a Cincinnati businessman supported by the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, a plurality of 5568 votes over Begg, who also had dry backing.

Atty. Gen. Edward C. Turner, who openly attacked the Anti-Saloon League and certain public utility interests which he charged had joined with the league to control state legislation, was a poor third in a six cornered race.

The final vote stood: Cooper 259,725; Begg 254,157; Fred Kohler, former Mayor of Cleveland, 25,115; Harry A. Shanley, Cleveland, negro publisher, 6840; Harry C. Smith, Forest, Ohio farmer, 16,161; Turner 90,236.

Congressman Davey of Kent was the choice of Ohio Democrats in approximately 80 of the state's 88 counties, leading Peter Witt, former Cleveland traffic commissioner, by a comfortable margin in a field of five candidates.

HINTS AT 'FRAUD'

Congressman Theodore E. Burton, Cleveland Republican, and Graham P. Hunt, Cincinnati attorney, Democrat, were chosen to fight it out in November for the four year unexpired term of the late United States Sen. Frank B. Willis. Five candidates sought the nomination.

Although Sen. Cyrus Locher, Cleveland, apparently was defeated by Hunt on the basis of unofficial returns, he issued a statement hinting fraud in the counting of his votes, and indicating that a state investigation might be requested.

Sen. Simeon D. Fess, Yellow Springs, renominated on the Republican ticket without opposition, will have as his November opponent Charles V. Truax.

ELISHA W. COBB DIES IN SEVENTY-SECOND YEAR

Elisha W. Cobb, dean of Boston's leather business and the donor of the $50,000 Memorial Library to Truro on the Cape, died in the Brooks Hospital, Brookline, in his 72d year.

LIGHTNING KILLS FIVE IN FRENCH VILLAGE

Grenoble, France, Aug. 16 (AP)—Five villagers were electrocuted when lightning struck a transformer distributing a high tension current to three villages, near Grenoble. Six houses were burned and the whole district electrified. The inhabitants were panic stricken and attempted to shut off the current by cutting or breaking the wires with damp tools or poles, for it was raining in torrents. Four persons were killed in these attempts. The fifth took a metal pump handle to get water to fight a fire and fell dead. A number of other persons received shocks and burns.

BOULDER HITS PICNIC PARTY; ONE BOY KILLED

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 16 (A.P.)—Willard Young Kimball, 11, son of Edward P. Kimball, president of the Salt Lake Rotary Club, was killed and three other persons slightly injured when a 300-pound boulder crashed down a mountainside and bounded into a group of rotarians on a picnic.

Four times since it was founded . 1879, Burdett College has been rced to move to larger quarters satisfy the increasing demand for he type of training offered. This ummer the school has moved to its ommodious and splendidly equipped ew building—the Burdett College uilding—156 Stuart st., one block rom Boston Common.

Among the features of the new uilding is the provision made for e installation of an internal broad-asting system with a radio loud peaker in each room and a micro-hone in the executive offices. Talks an be sent out over this system rom the offices to the different ooms of the school.

Fall business courses begin Sept. . Business Administration courses ept. 17, Evening School Sept. 17. 'en complete courses of varying ngth are offered in addition to re-iew and finishing courses. All work s carefully graded. Courses are rouped under department heads, ach with a trained corps of instruc-ors.

The institution as a whole is co-ducational, but departments are aintained primarily for young wo-nen and for young men.

The enrollment for the fall term s larger this year than usual.

Mischaud's School Offers Wide Study

Miss Mischaud's Secretarial School for girls and women offers a wide selection of courses in business subjects. Students receive individual attention. Enrolment may be arranged at any time.

A staff of instructors well grounded in their subjects supply efficient tuition. The school is located at No. 88 Tremont st. Graduates are helped to secure positions.

REGISTRATION SEPT. 15 AT N. E. CONSERVATORY

Registration for the first semester of the New England Conservatory of Music's school year of 1928-29 begins September 13. Examinations for advanced standing will take place September 16-21. The academic year begins September 20.

It is announced that William A. C. Zerffi of New York has been engaged for the faculty in the voice department. He is a teacher of scientific training and experience. His theories of voice productions long have been recognized by musicians.

His method is based on knowledge of the anatomy and physiology of the throat and other vocal apparatus supplemented by study of the branch of physics dealing with sound. Zerffi last April lectured at the United States National Museum, Washington, D. C.

Other changes announced in the personnel of the Conservatory faculty of about 100 members are few.

George F. Fourel, a distinguished virtuoso of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, will teach viola, providing a special opportunity for students who intend to become artists in viola, for whom at present the demand exceeds the supply.

Paul Sidow, also of the Boston Symphony, will teach the tuba in the department of wind and percussion instruments.

NORTHEASTERN ENTERS UPON 31ST YEAR

Northeastern University will enter upon its 31st year next month, the School of Law, the first of its four degree granting schools, having been established in 1898. Through the Day Division which consists of the School of Engineering and Business Administration and the Evening Division which includes the Schools of Law and Commerce and Finance a wide range of educational opportunities is offered.

To provide for the increasing enrollment in the student body, additional facilities will be provided for the ensuing year and the faculty strengthened and enlarged.

The School of Engineering offers in the day four-year courses in Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, and Industrial Engineering leading to the customary bachelor degrees in Engineering.

The School of Business Administration provides a thorough training in Business Management and Accounting and Finance, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration.

While the day schools limit their attendance to men, the evening schools are open to women as well.

The School of Law conducts a four-year evening course leading to the Bachelor of Laws degree. Students are prepared for the bar examination and practice.

The School of Commerce and Finance offers business training for employed men and women through its six-year courses in Professional Accounting, Marketing, and Business Administration, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration.

Variety of Courses Being Offered at Higgins School

Today every girl is taking business as a profession and a thorough business education may be procured in either day or evening courses at the Higgins Commercial School, 234 Boylston st.

English courses of college grade are particularly beneficial to the experienced stenographer seeking advancement.

Courses in shorthand, typewriting, office practice, secretarial accounting, rhetoric, English composition and business correspondence can be completed in ten months.

For the girl whose time is limited this school offers a course in operating Burrough's machine, comptometer, typewriter, Elliot Fisher billing and bookkeeping machines.

PRACTICAL ART SCHOOL EXHIBIT OPENS TOMORROW

Annual open house will take place at the School of Practical Arts, 857 Boylston st., starting tomorrow and continuing until Sept. 10. Representative work will be on display in the studios and will be made up of drawings and paintings produced by students of the school during the past year.

The School of Practical Arts has had fifteen years of successful experience in training and placing young artists in their chosen profession and is under the direction of Roy Atherton Davidson.

BIG INCREASE AT BENTLEY

The Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, 921 Boylston st., is a unique institution in that it trains men for a definite profession and omits non-essentials which are usually forgotten soon after completing a course.

The progress and growth of the school have been remarkable and have been stimulated by the service which the school renders its graduates.

This school started in 1917 with 29 students and last year had an enrollment of more than 2050. The enrollment to date far exceeds the number enrolled last year at this time, clearly indicating that the coming year will see a large influx of new students.

Representatives of many large industrial concerns call at the school each year to interview men with a view to selecting them to develop for executive positions.

ATTORNEY HATTON IN CRITICAL CONDITION

James A. Hatton, former assistant United States district attorney, and former assistant district attorney for Suffolk County, was reported as critically ill at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. Hatton is under indictment in connection with the recent conspiracy charges investigated by Dist.-Atty. Foley.

SIXTEEN YEARS RADIO SCHOOL

The opening of the fall courses on Sept. 10, at the Eastern Radio Institute, 899 Boylston st., inaugurates the 16th consecutive year of its activity. The many years of successful achievement behind this institution has brought it international recognition as one of the foremost schools devoted to the training of men and women desiring to enter the radio profession. Its pupils are enrolled from all parts of the world.

With added equipment to its already well-stocked laboratory, the institute is in a better position than ever before to continue its policy of training its students in all of the fundamental principles underlying radio communication, both in telegraphy and telephony.

Its methods of instruction are modern, efficient, thorough yet simplified. Every instructor is the holder of a first class commercial license.

ROBBER IS GIVEN 14 YEARS AT PROVIDENCE

Providence, Aug. 16—James P. McKenna, alias Edward Shea, said to be from New York, was sentenced in superior court to 14 years in State Prison for a Pawtucket store robbery which occurred June 18, 1927.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

September 19, 20 and 21 are the registration days at the Boston University School of Law, 11 Ashburton place, Boston. Lectures begin September 24. The purpose of the school is to give the student such training in the fundamental principles of law and such equipment in the technique of the profession as will best prepare him for active practice. The instruction is designed to enable the student to practice law wherever the English system of law prevails.

COPLEY SCHOOL LIMITS CLASSES TO 60 PUPILS

An exhibition of the students' work is open for public inspection at the Copley School of Commercial Art. Samples of magazine covers, illustrations of all kinds, both in color, and black and white, pastel heads, landscapes in pen and ink are represented.

This year classes are to be limited to 60 pupils in order that careful individual instruction and personal criticism may be maintained.

Success

Through Preparation

There are unlimited possibilities in the great field of business for men who are prepared to do some one thing particularly well. Therefore, a young man who desires to follow a business career should supplement his high school training with a professional training which will enable him to qualify as a specialist. He should select the department of business administration which appeals to him most strongly, and then specialize accordingly. This applies to graduates of the commercial course quite as much as to graduates of the college preparatory course or the general course.

The department of accounting and finance offers more favorable opportunities than any other department of business administration.

This is the largest professional school of college grade in the world devoted exclusively to training men for the duties of office manager, cost accountant, auditor, credit man, comptroller, treasurer, or public accountant. It offers an intensive two-year course of college grade, and its graduates are in demand because they are trained to meet the exacting requirements of modern business in which specialization is the key-note of efficient administration.

BURROUGHS OFFERS REAL BUSINESS TRAINING

This is an age of machinery, and in the office, as well as in manufacture and agriculture, machines have revolutionized business methods. The office of today is as different from the office of 25 years ago as the high-powered automobile is from the "horseless carriage" of the '90s.

Devices for saving time, effort and money in office work are found in every progressive business office, but in no phase of office work has greater progress been made than in the development of mechanical devices for handling figures. In the modern business office, machines are now used for practically every figure operation, ranging from straight adding machines and calculating to the most complicated processes of billing and bookkeeping.

The wide experience and close contact of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company with all lines of business enables it to offer thoroughly practical courses in modern business work.

PRACTICAL INSTRUCTION AT GRAVES SCHOOL

Thorough practical instruction is responsible for the success of the Graves School of Costume Designing at 59 Temple pl., declares Miss Graves, the principal.

Miss Graves brings the practical knowledge of 25 years' experience and the advantages of the S. T. Taylor system, which has been in use for 78 years into the planning and presentation of the school's courses.

Dressmaking, costume designing, drafting and tailoring are among the subjects taught. Graduates are assisted into business or positions by a placement bureau.

CLASSES FOR STAMMERERS

Enrollment for the fall semester at the Boston Stammerers' Institute is far above normal and Director Robbins reports student registrations from all over New England.

For the past few years, this has been one of the most popular sessions of the year, coming as it does at the end of the vacation period when students who are anxious to enter school or business in the fall may complete the routine part of the course in speech rectification in ample time to do so, and finish the entire course by less frequent lessons after school hours or on Saturdays.

For business people, who are handicapped by faulty or labored articulation, the evening classes are particularly convenient.

The Boston Stammerers' Institute is one of the oldest in the country and enjoys national recognition. Its director, Samuel D. Robbins, is widely known for his research work at the Harvard University psychological laboratory and his radio talks on stammering.

FRANKLIN UNION IS PIONEER IN SCHOOLS

The Franklin Union, a pioneer technical institute, has a board of control whose appointment rests with the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth.

New courses designed to cope with advanced industrial needs are planned for the coming term. The school provides systematic, organized adult trade and technical training of non-college grade.

MISS FROTHINGHAM WEDS R. P. ECKERT, JR.

One of Boston's younger society members, Miss Olga M. Frothingham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Langdon Frothingham of 476 Beacon st., was married at Rockford, Ill., to Robert P. Eckert, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Eckert of Freeport, Ill.

The engagement was announced last October and family reasons are responsible for the marriage so far away from the Boston home of the bride.

The Rev. Russell I. Genclone of Ardmore, Ill., an intimate friend of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony.

The bride is a member of the Junior League and Vincent Club and has been prominent in the theatricals presented by both organizations. Mr. Eckert received his A. B. from Harvard in 1925 and LL. B. in 1928.

The young couple will make their home in Freeport, where Mr. Eckert will engage in the practice of law with his father.

PIONEER SIGN ARTS SCHOOL IN ITS NEW LOCATION

The old established Wagner School of Sign Arts, which for many years was located on Columbus ave., has recently moved to new and more commodious quarters at 470 Stuart st.

The director, Charles L. H. Wagner, stated today that the advance registration was greater than in any previous year in the school's history, and that he anticipated a 50 per cent increase in the enrolment over last year's number.

An invitation is extended to the public to visit the new quarters and see the permanent exhibition of student work on display.

A course in commercial drawing, under a well-known newspaper artist, will be given in addition to regular courses.

DECRIES NON-COLLEGE BAN

At the American Bar Association convention in Seattle last month the topic of barring all but college men from the profession of law was met and discussed. Opposition to this college movement was led by Dean Gleason L. Archer of Suffolk Law School.

Claiming that there are 25,000 lawyer members in the American Bar Association throughout the nation who have never been permitted to vote on the question of barring non-college men from the profession of law and inasmuch as a great majority of these members are themselves non-college men, the fate of this college monopoly scheme if submitted to a referendum would probably be disastrous to such.

BOSTON CALCULATING SCHOOL SPECIALIZES

The faculty of the Boston Calculating School emphasizes the practical nature of their courses of instruction. The aim of the school is to fit its graduates for the particular branches of business activity for which they enrolled.

Graduates, by success in their chosen fields, are increasing the prestige of the school. Efficient instruction in commercial arithmetic and the operation of calculating machines, is stressed.

PROBLEMS FOR HOME MAKERS

September opens a most interesting and progressive plan of study at the Boston School of Interior Decoration and Architectural Design. The schedule has been expanded to include, in addition to one session and short courses in interior decoration, home planning, home furnishing courses and a complete one year course.

The home building and home furnishing courses emphasize the immediate problems of the home-maker, the prospective bride or the mature home woman. The home plan, the superintending of the building, the furnishing (including furniture, linen, china and all those details so difficult to manage unassisted), may all be carried to completion under expert supervision.

STUDY TIME AGAIN AT BOSTON PACE INSTITUTE

Coincident with the great development and change which have taken place in organized business in the United States during the past [illegible] years has arisen the need for a systematic course of training which would prepare men and women to fill executive positions.

The Pace course in accountancy and business administration was developed specifically to fill this need. The Pace course has prepared thousands of men and women for directive positions in business and for the professional practice of accountancy.

The course in accountancy was developed and brought to its present state by 20 years and more of teaching in the large cities of the country.

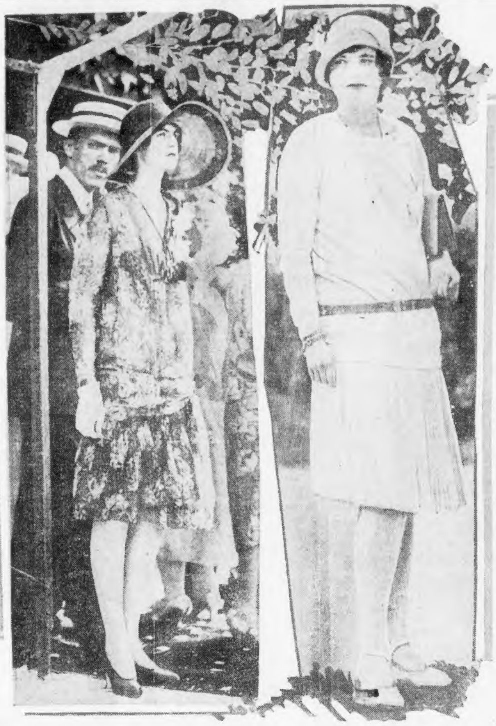
VANDERBILT FARM PARTIES HIT AT NEWPORT; SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Youthful President of Casino Theater Wins Applause of Summer Colonists

NEWPORT, R. I., AUG. 16 —Supper parties at Oakland Farm are becoming a pleasant social habit here in Newport. After the enormous crystal and gilt chandeliers, that glimmer high over the Casino Theater's jade and cream exquisiteness, have been dimmed and the curtain closed over the final scene, young Mr. Vanderbilt is very apt to have several cars full of guests whisked out to his manorial estate, there to play the host charmingly in his most boyishly delightful way. Every Tuesday and practically every Wednesday after-the-theater parties are Oakland Farm informalities.

NEWPORT'S FASHIONABLES glean great satisfaction from William H. Vanderbilt's advent into the social arena. That a Vanderbilt box in the theater nightly holds brilliant companies, and that Vanderbilt hospitalities go on in scintillating progression, are matters of keen delight to Newport's older circles. Newporters of that generation, recalling vividly Alfred Vanderbilt's meteor-like swathe across the social heavens, gaze benignly on the present generation representative of high position and uncounted wealth. They are glad that the Casino Theater's youthful president takes his official and social duties seriously.



Natalie Bayard Merrill Eleanor Flick

IN FASHIONABLE SWIRL AT RHODE ISLAND SPA

These smart young girls add materially to the gaiety synonymous with a Newport season. Miss Flick hails from New York while Boston claims Miss Merrill as its very own.

NOT THAT THERE'S THE least suspicion of seriousness in his theater and supper parties. Quite the contrary. They scintillate. And every opera glass in the bijou theater turns magnetically to the Vanderbilt box, way down on the left, when a lovely Miss Violet Kemble Cooper and a distinguished Basil Rathbone are guests therein. Next week even more brilliance will invest the Vanderbilt box, when Mrs. Paul Fitz Simons entertains her sister, Lady Cheylesmore. No matter how many titles and their owners Newport may boast, the advent of another always brings a flutter.

MRS. HARRY PAYNE WHITNEY is devoted to the pretty Casino Theater season and its succession of stage successes. So are Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice, Mrs. Maxim Karolik, Mrs. Shaw Safe and other big wigs. Tuesdays and Wednesdays are gala evenings, of course. Amazing to consider and marvelous to behold are the beauty and value of Milady's jewels, donned for their owner's enhancement and on show for all to see. Diamonds outgleam the twinkling chandeliers, and pearls, worthy to ransom a czar, nightly radiate their plutocratic beauty.

EVEN THOUGH A CHOICE box is inscribed with her name, Mrs. Vanderbilt, Newport's ultra conservative grande dame, appears to prefer the less formal matinee of a Saturday to evening performances, however gorgeously attended they may be. Now and again is she to be found in the "Mrs. Vanderbilt" box. Frequently does she do the matinee, frequently and quite regularly. Her critical taste finds complete satisfaction in the "Admirable Crichtons" and the "Grand Duchesses" Festival artist set forth for Thespian fare this summer.

A SLENDER SPRITE OF A girl, delicately tanned to a golden brown from knee to ankle, is an avenue vision not at all infrequent this summer, in Newport. One wonders just how Miss Eleonora Sears will meet this stockingless craze, when she comes down to Newport for the invitation tennis tournaments. For Miss Sears, be it known, has long been an advocate of the stockingless limb during heated tennis matches. Miss Sears, however, has confined this innovation to the courts, but it may well be that she will resume along Bellevue ave.'s sacrasanct ways, the fashion she led off in, not so very many moons ago.

BOSTON'S REPRESENTATION this summer in the social stronghold must make up in individuality what it lacks in numbers. And individuality is essentially an attribute of both Miss Anita Potts and Miss Mary Holden. They were Miss Mary Ames' guests, at the F. Lothrop Ames villa, and, of course, registered at the Casino, where every Young Set member puts in an appearance for tennis.

MISS POTTS IS THE RAVEN tressed, black eyed daughter, and one most highly gifted, of Mrs. Rockhill Brevoort Potts. Bright cheeked and animated, Miss Mary Holden is the second daughter of the Joshua B. Holdens, and treks from York Harbor to Newport along a brilliant social path. It appears that neither has as yet succumbed to the craze for stockingless Casino appearances that flew like wildfire through the still young smart set in its feminine element. So their nether limbs have not yet acquired that golden tan devotees of the courts consider ultra chic this summer.

HASSELL HOPS OFF IN FLIGHT TO SWEDEN

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 16—Parker D. Cramer and Bert R. J. Hassell took off from Rockford Airport at 6:42 a. m. today on their scheduled flight to Stockholm, Sweden.

Their first stop was to be Cochrane, Ontario, about 4 o'clock this afternono. Thence they will fly to Mount Evans, Greenland, from which point they will endeavor to span the North Atlantic.

This is the second start for Cramer and Hassell, their giant plane crashing in a cornfield near here several weeks ago while attempting to take off.

Getting away today the pilots made a perfect hop off from the local airport, circling over the field until the big plane had made an altitude of about 1000 feet. The fliers then nosed northeastward toward Canada.

Both Hassell and Cramer expressed confidence as they climbed into the "Greater Rickford" and waved good-by. A large crowd at the airport cheered as the big plane took off under ideal weather conditions.

Blaine Accuses Hoover

Milwaukee, Aug. 16 (AP)—U. S. Sen. John Blaine, Republican, issued a statement charging that Herbert Hoover has attempted "to hide the outstanding corruptionists of the Harding-Coolidge administration."

COOLIDGE AND ADMIRAL HUGHES IN CONFERENCE

Superior, Wis., Aug. 16 (AP)—Today's working hours were laid aside by President Coolidge for a discussion of naval subjects with Admiral Charles Hughes, chief of naval operations, who was invited to come from Washington to the Summer White House. Officials at the executive offices said the call had no special significance, but Admiral Hughes was known tohave left the capital with the latest information regarding all questions pending in the naval establishment, including legislative and budgetary matters.

SIDEWALKS OF NEW YORK

TIMES have changed since Murphy's time,
Times have changed—and how!
All the lads in Tammany
Wear white collars now,
Every leader looks today
As solemn as a stork,
The cabinet will be made up
From the sidewalks of New York
East Side, West Side, all around the town
Al and all the old-time gang are marching up and down,
Every one is hoping hard to get his slice of pork
When they move the White House to the sidewalks of New York.

LUGS 'REGISTER OF THE WORLD' ON HIS BACK

Autograph collectors fall in and file out into the shadows. Joseph Frank Mikulec, world heavyweight champion autograph collector, is back in Boston after eight years with 56 pounds of notables' names, gathered in 30 nations.

When he came into the Boston Evening American office today with his [illegible] book on his shoulder, the third book in an autograph series begun in 1907—Mikulec was completing [illegible] miles of globe-trotting in 27 years.

It is the best book, he said, of the three, because when he started the notables of the world didn't know him and were shy about signing.

But in this book he exhibits signatures of [illegible] presidents, premiers and potentates, [illegible] in a dozen languages throughout the world.

President Coolidge's signature heads off this third book and some of the others who have signed include Mussolini, King Albert of Belgium, Cardinal Gasparri, of the Vatican, Marshal Foch, President Doumergue of France, Judge Gary, ex-President Taft, Thomas A. Edison, King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, King Alexander I of Jugo-Slavia and countless more.

Mikulec, son of a farmer in Croatia, Jugo-Slavia, speaks eight languages fluently as a result of his travels and has a working knowledge of a score of others.

IT'S A FAIR YARN, MATES; YOU CAN LAY TO THAT

Glace Bay, N. S., Aug. 15 (INS)—A battle with a large swordfish that pierced a dory and broke its sword was recounted today by two fishermen. The encounter occurred off the harbor. The fish, harpooned as it was drowsing on the surface, rushed the boat and thrust its sword through the bottom. One of the men lassoed the bony blade and held on firmly while their schooner raced to the rescue.

The fish, fighting viciously, snapped off the sword and raced away carrying the harpoon, but was caught after an hour's battle.

100 AWAIT RESCUE ABOARD STRANDED PACIFIC LINER

San Francisco, Aug. 16 (INS)—Approximately 100 passengers of the Pacific Mail steamer Ecuador, aground on the rocks of Cape San Lazaro, Lower California, were awaiting rescue by the fruit ship San Mateo as dawn broke over the Pacific today. There was no immediate danger, Capt. T. K. Oaks of the Ecuador reported by radio. The San Mateo, northbound, is about 100 miles south of the stranded steamer. The Ecuador was bound from San Francisco to New York.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

Here is the thrill of radio at its best.
TRY THE 1929 ELECTRIC SET MODEL 40
$77 (without tubes)
MODEL 40 A. C. Set. For 110-120 volts, 50-60 cycle, alternating current. Requires six A. C. tubes and one rectifying tube. $77. Also Model 42 A. C. set, $86, and Model 44 A. C. set, $106 (without tubes). Battery sets, $49 and $68 (less tubes and batteries).

OWNERS of the new Atwater Kent 40 say they have never heard a better radio than the Atwater Kent 40. They say it exactly meets their desire for a compact electric receiver that would bring in the programs clearly and give no trouble at all. They say they didn't realize until they tried the Atwater Kent 40 that even the largest and best-equipped of radio factories could produce so fine a set at so low a price.

That's what they say—these thousands who are so enthusiastically spreading the reputation of Model 40—which works from a lamp socket at a cost of only a fraction of a cent an hour.

The nearest Atwater Kent dealer would like to hear what you say, and he'll give you a home demonstration. With Smith and Hoover getting ready to go on the air—and with all sorts of enjoyable programs being broadcast every day—why not say "Home Demonstration" today?

Shelby Still Hates Leather Pushers

By DAMON RUNYON

ONE of my veteran operatives, A-99, otherwise Mr. Solly Harris, has just returned from a trip of exploration to Shelby, Montana, the seat of the famous Battle of Busted Banks, between Jack Dempsey, the Manassa Mauler, and Thomas Gibbons of Minnesota

Mr. Harris [illegible] first pugilistic white child born in [illegible]

[illegible] was the first offspring of the Sour Science [illegible] after it was definitely decided that Dempsey [illegible] really meet there.

Mr. Harris [illegible] in the capacity of publicity man, or what [illegible] remained just long enough to sweep out after [illegible]

It was there that Mr. Harris acquired a curious habit that [illegible] with him to this day. It is the habit of walking on his heels. Some thought that he acquired this habit from the steady reverberation of the punches that used to hit old Jack Thompson, the Senegambian, who was managed by Mr. Thompson, but such is not the case. [illegible] residence in [illegible] going down [illegible]

MR. HARRIS became widely fa[illegible] those [illegible] as the owner of the only room [illegible] in Shelby.

[illegible] leading hotel, called [illegible] Mr. Harris would have [illegible] at proper intervals [illegible] for the fact that [illegible] was always tenanted by [illegible] Hall.

[illegible] it was a bathtub, [illegible] from all over [illegible] the strange spec[illegible] enough, Mr. Harris [illegible] right into that same room [illegible] the other day, and the bathtub was still [illegible] Mr. Hall and Mr. [illegible] bottles of beer.

[illegible] that Mr. Harris [illegible] before in his life [illegible]

"They've got another story on the Rainbow," reports Mr. Harris. "The town looks quite prosperous, what with the oil fields, and all.

"I didn't say much about the Dempsey-Gibbons fight to the citizens, because I didn't know but what some of them might still be a little touchy on the subject."

[illegible] Mayor Jim Johnson [illegible] reproachfully [illegible] I saw the mayor,' [illegible] He recognized [illegible] fight [illegible] Jack Kearns, so [illegible] He asked about Kearns' health. He said he hoped it isn't any too good."

I RECALL Mr. Solly Harris the night after the fight concealing himself under a lower berth in Mr. Jim Keeney's special train out of Shelby, seeking escape from Montana.

Mr. Harris was never rewarded for his feats of publicity on behalf of [illegible], and it was every man for himself.

He [illegible] Jack Thompson out [illegible] in a preliminary on [illegible] J. Leo McKernan [illegible] enough change for such an elaborate program.

I never heard how old Jack Thompson got out of Shelby. Perhaps he was under the berth with Mr. Harris.

"I saw Loy Molumby in Great Falls," said Mr. Harris. "He seems to be doing O. K. I took the pictures of the Tunney-Heeney fight out there with me, leaving New York the night after the battle, but it was simply astonishing how the folks didn't care to look at Mister Tunney.

"I went to Butte, figuring I'd clean up there, sure. The first day the Dempsey-Tunney pictures played there a year ago they took in $3000. Mine drew only about $800. It was just as bad in Great Falls. They didn't want to see anyone but the old Man Mauler, even in pictures.

"I would have wiggled out at that if a batch of bootleg pictures hadn't come into the State on me so I sold out to a fellow who wanted to play the very small towns with them and [illegible]

"Bootleg pictures? Why, pictures that were taken under cover—not the authorized pictures," elucidated Mr. Harris. "They were showing them for about half what I was asking. I guess Kearns got all the loose money there ever was out in that neck of the woods for the fight racket, anyway."

HAGEN ACCEPTS FARRELL'S CHALLENGE

Detroit, Aug. 16 (A.P.)—Walter Hagen, British open golf champion, and Johnny Farrell, holder of the national open title, will meet in a series of matches for the unofficial championship of the world.

Hagen late yesterday wired his acceptance to a challenge issued by Farrell, and it was decided that the first test, a 36-hole match would be played at the Western Golf and Country Club here, on Wednesday, August 29.

There is nothing new in a meeting between the holders of the two premier golf titles of the world, but the plan to be followed by Hagen and Farrell is an innovation according to Bob Harlow, the Haig's manager.

The victor in three out of five matches will win the series. On other occasions of special matches between two leading golfers, one 72-hole match has been played. This system, according to Hagen, is unfair to both the players engaged and to the club which sponsors the match.

His reason is that one player may obtain such a margin in the first 36 holes, as to kill interest in the final rounds. He believes that a fairer chance is offered both players under the series plan, which leaves an opportunity for a comeback for a player who might happen to be badly off form.

In making the challenge, Farrell said he would play under any system suggested by Hagen. The dates of the matches following the one here have not been definitely set, but it is planned to play the second in New York and the third at Philadelphia. Should fourth and fifth matches be necessary, Chicago and Cleveland are the cities in line.

CELEBRATION FOR BARBUTI

Inwood, N. Y., Aug. 16 (INS)—An elaborate celebration has been arranged here for the home coming of Raymond Barbuti, winner of the 400-metre race at the Olympic games, and a member of the team which won the 1600-metre relay race.

A local committee will meet Barbuti when he arrives in New York Monday on board the President Roosevelt. At the Nassau County Line, Roosevelt, N. Y. The returning athlete will be met by the board of supervisors of the county.

A parade of Nassau organizations will be formed that will accompany him to Inwood, his home community.

At Inwood there will be public meeting of welcome, with Congressman Robert L. Bacon as the principal speaker. A community dinner is planned for Tuesday sponsored by the principal civic and patriotic organizations with the star Syracuse athlete as their guest. The alumni of Lawrence high school, of which Barbuti is a member, will give another entertainment for the champion on Wednesday.

Godfrey Also Loses "On a Foul"

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 16 (INS)—George Godfrey, long a dark cloud on the heavyweight horizon isn't quite so much of a menace today. The giant Philadelphia negro lost to Larry Gains of this city on a foul in the third round of their scheduled ten-round bout here last night and was being outpointed up to the time when the low blow was struck.

The fight was billed as for the "negro heavyweight championship of the world."

✦ JOHN J. McGRAW. ✦

John McGraw

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, is liable to guide his team to another pennant this season. The Cards led the league all year, but of late the stocky director has smoothed out the weaknesses of his team. They have crawled right up on the Cards.

32 TEAMS IN 3RD ROUND AT ESSEX

Handicaps Threaten to Eliminate Many Strong 4-Ball Combinations

By BILL GRIMES

[illegible] Jaques [illegible] survive [illegible] afternoon [illegible] their best [illegible] tourna[illegible] trouble going [illegible] with W. W. Cut[illegible] will receive [illegible] Pfaelzer

"BUCK" WHITTEMORE and R. Tufts are even worse off [illegible] Pfaelzer for they [illegible] H. W. Snelling [illegible] from Weston [illegible] and one which [illegible]

[illegible] Henderson [illegible] five, while [illegible] one stroke from [illegible]

[illegible] Whittemore and [illegible] four-ball [illegible] assignment [illegible] and it [illegible] the low [illegible] to come [illegible]

[illegible] of the teams, Dr. C[illegible] and W. C. Keany [illegible] team appear to be [illegible] and for this reason [illegible] Seabrook and Fritz Sar[illegible] still be very much in [illegible] at the end of today's play.

Lewis Grimball of Belmont and Capt. W. G. McEwen, from the Country Club have a real battle on with Joe Norton, Jr., and E. R. Doyle.

GRIMBALL and Norton will play from scratch and the former will give Doyle four strokes while McEwen has five coming from Norton and one from Doyle.

[illegible] Monahan and Wallace C[illegible] are favored to win over [illegible] Leo Liggett, each [illegible] have used their hand[illegible] they have finished [illegible]

If Monahan and Coolidge get going as they have in some of [illegible] past four-ball tournaments, it will be bad medicine to the rest of the field for they have turned in some sensational performances.

Herbert Jaques and Ted Froth[illegible] are going to be exceptionally [illegible] table to J. V. R. Brig[illegible] Martin, for they [illegible] about a dozen strokes.

If Jaques gets on one of the [illegible] streaks of his, such as he produced during the recent Jaques Cup [illegible] and at the Rhode Island Country Club, when he put Herb [illegible] out of the first New England amateur championship, strokes won't mean a thing to him and [illegible] one answer, Jaques and Sargent.

The 32 teams which failed to [illegible] championship [illegible] are now playing in [illegible] consolation [illegible] will carry on [illegible] Saturday.

Light Wind Hurts

Vineyard Haven, Aug. 16—There was very little pep in the yacht races, due to the very light and variable wind. The boats barely made the finish line.

Big Golf Tourney Slated for Sept. 3

Opelika, Ala., Aug. 16—It was decided at a meeting of the [illegible] committee of Opelika Country Club to hold an invitation [illegible] ment here on Labor Day, September 3.

The following cities will be invited to send players [illegible] Atlanta, La Grange, New[illegible], West Point, Columbus, Montgomery, Birmingham, [illegible], Auburn, Tuskegee, Roanoke, Talladega, Anniston and Gadsden.

This will be the biggest drawing card ever attempted on a local course and will attract some outstanding business and professional men in this amateur tournament.

L. FATOR HAVING BUSY TIME AT SARATOGA TRACK

Saratoga, Aug. 16—Laverne Fator may be employed to ride Victorian in the Champlain today and again in the Travers Saturday.

The Rancocas Stable star is available for both races as Hildreth has no starters, and it is understood Jimmy Rowe is anxious to have him take the mount. Victorian is meeting Reigh Count Saturday and will need all the help a strong rider can give him.

'Pro's' Life Has Its Ups and Downs

By BOBBY JONES
National Amateur Champion

Sometimes it is hard to see why the poor golf professional—I mean he of the calling who has a club job to look after and lessons to give—is able to preserve anything like an equable disposition and continue to have patience with his pupils. Golfers on the whole are a peculiar lot.

[illegible] Quite evidently the bunk he has been handing out to them is all wrong and he doesn't know the game anyway.

It is really astounding how much a professional teacher can be ex[illegible]

He gets no thanks and words of criticism if in one lesson he cannot enable his pupil to cut strokes off his score.

There are just two classes among golfers, one composed are content [illegible] prove and to do the thing as it [illegible]

THE other man who desires to perfect a smooth, effective, stylish swing must rely mainly upon his professional to help him do it [illegible] to a cer[illegible] eye of the instructor. He wants that he ought to do this and that [illegible] as he has been told. So far he is well posted [illegible] play as the professional told him or state the case more accurately, [illegible] rough-and-ready method.

IF that attitude is a common one [illegible] instruction is time thrown away.

[illegible] could do nothing in that way, even granted a ready apt pupil.

To make changes in muscular habits; to make conscious motions into fixed habits; to impart to the pupil a thorough understanding of [illegible] many half-hour lessons [illegible] who was naturally a great golfer. But few are blessed with a natural style as fine as Vardon's.

Manchester, Aug. 16—Under sweltering sun, the Essex four ball field, which totaled 207, took a terrible punishing. [illegible] from those teams which [illegible] for the first round.

Paul Sanborn, who played with Ray Gorton, ruined the chances of Clarence Cochrane and Mark Helens of Bellevue, one of the outstanding combinations in the field.

Sanborn was given a ten stroke handicap and he used every one to advantage. Sanborn is an 18 handicap man in the State, according to his Essex rating, but from the brand of golf he shot yesterday he should be slashed into the single figures.

Andrew Carnegie and George [illegible] were among the [illegible] couple of decades ago, when George [illegible] teamed with Hildreth Meiere to capture the Essex four-ball title five years ago.

There may be better golfers at Essex than Tack Hardwick, but the former Harvard star looked like a real champion playing the 17th and 18th against Bill Blaney and Dwight Barnum.

Tack dropped his second into the trap at the 17th but came out dead to the cup for a halve, to protect a one hole lead, with his partner Art Corwin, out of the running, and he repeated this feat at the home hole.

The two Salem Country Club [illegible] A. L. Putnam and C. B. Hughes in [illegible] Johnson and Everett Mitton in the afternoon.

Merritt and Brundage drew a bye

The rule adopted for this tournament prohibiting the conceding of putt via the sweeping away of an opponent's ball has caused many controversies. One match was all even and one player conceded a putt and automatically his opponent called the hole.

It is ridiculous to insert such a ruling for four ball competition, where there are no stymies, and it is questionable sportsmanship to call such a local infraction.

One of the best matches slated for today is [illegible]

Harold W. Pierce, president of the Massachusetts Golf Association, connected with a long, but slightly off the line, drive from the first tee. He played his second from beyond the third green, and was almost home. His game may not be as straight as that of some of the others, but it is every bit as long.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS—

By HELEN ROWLAND

MY Daughter, when a woman is deceived in love, it is because she hath deceived herself.

For beauty may be simulated, and wisdom may be assumed; but the signs of True Love can no more be hidden than the symptoms of hay-fever.

Verily, the tongue of a True Lover waggeth not, but stumbleth and obstructeth his speech. It forgetteth its "line" and loseth its glibness.

The feet of a True Lover rest not, neither do they wander, but race back and forth as a shuttle upon a beaten path; and when he is not beside thee his is always upon his WAY.

The heart of a True Lover misseth like unto a disordered engine. It is never serene and full of gayety.

The eyes of a True Lover close not, neither do they rove—but remain fixed upon ONE image, and can "see" no other woman.

The temper of a True Lover remaineth smoother than a politician's campaign talk. His patience is not strained by long hours of waiting. His sweetness and forbearance are inexhaustible.

The charity of a True Lover covereth a multitude of caprices and shortcomings. He perceiveth not the flaws in thy make-up; and unto him a freckled nose is an added charm and a blemish is a beauty spot.

The nose of a True Lover delighteth in scented powders and sachets, and is not meticulous concerning the BRAND of thy perfume—for it is all incense and sweetness in his nostrils. But a man that is not in love shuddereth at patchouli and is sickened by the Oriental stuff.

The shoulders of a True Lover shrink not from rice powder and rouge and tears and beauty creams; he rejoiceth to be a "marked man," when thy Fleur d'Amour clingeth to his coat-lapel. But a philanderer is more cautious, and brusheth away the "evidence."

The knees of a True Lover are never fatigued, and the crease in his trousers concerneth not his soul. For, while the Love Fever lasteth his vanity is forgotten, and the opinion of the world is emptiness, and the admiration of other women of no moment.

Verily, verily, the diagnosis of love is a simple thing, and its symptoms easier to read than an electric sign.

Wherefore, then, doth any woman deceive herself, saying, "I cannot TELL whether or not this man loveth me; for he is reticent, and his words reveal nothing?"

* * *

For in their lighter moods, men may differ one from the other; but under the spell of the Love Fever, all men are as one man—and that one as window-glass! SELAH.

ONCE-OVERS

By J. J. MUNDY.

ARE you robbing Peter to pay Paul?

You pay one debt by standing off another.

And so you go on, down the line. Trouble is, that the debts seem to increase rather than to grow less.

Then that proves the fallacy of your method.

Suppose you try to cut expenditures slightly, along several lines, in your living or business lists.

Don't pare off so much as to make it impossible, or foolish.

But retrench, slightly, in every way.

It won't be long before you notice a better balance in your ledger.

Even a slight retrenchment brings you to a more acute sense of your needs, along certain lines.

With a keener sense of what your life or business demands, you can, perhaps, take a slightly greater percentage off some certain other expenditures.

Very likely you will get just as much satisfaction out of living, and so much satisfaction out of wise spending that you will study a better balance relation between the debit and credit sides of your transactions.

Stock Exchange Failures Rare, Governors Get Credit

By B. C. FORBES

B. C. Forbes

New York, Aug. 15—A small New York Stock Exchange failure the other day serves to draw attention to the absence of serious disturbances of this kind during recent years. Time was when Wall Street experienced failures on almost every occasion when the market moved sharply in either direction. Why are such failures now rare?

The governors of the Stock Exchange are entitled to chief credit. Whereas members used to have their affairs supervised hardly at all, the governors now exercise the strictest supervision. The financial standing of each house is examined, and whenever anything suspicious pops up, a searching investigation is made.

Under the system now in force, there should not be in future any terribly serious bankruptcies among members of the institution.

The Stock Exchange and Wall Street are so frequently criticised, often without real basis, that a word about the Exchange governors may not be amiss. Briefly, they represent the flower of Wall Street brokers. They are elected because of their high standing and reputation. A governor, under the way things are now run, is in a position to obtain so much confidential information about other members that no man not thoroughly trusted would receive a sufficient number of members' votes to be elected.

Not only is the character of the governors beyond suspicion, but those familiar with the facts know that much time and the most earnest attention are devoted to the duties. The president of the Exchange—the present incumbent is E. H. H. Simmons—actually devotes more time, wholly without pay, to the work of the institution than to his own affairs. Certain committee heads also fill office at very great sacrifice of time and money.

The best proof of the efficiency of the governing body is the remarkable absence of failures and of unsavory practices by members. This absence of failures is the more remarkable when it is considered how enormously stock speculation has expanded during the last few years. Whereas a million-share day formerly was an event accorded the front page of metropolitan newspapers, 2,000,000-share days and 3,000,000-share days have become common and we have witnessed 4,000,000-share days and one 5,000,000-share day.

Consider also how drastic have been the ups and downs in many highly speculative stocks—some issues have had a range of more than $100 between the year's high and low quotation.

Nor has the rise in money rates to the highest levels in seven years tended to make the broker's path smoother.

Admittedly, many houses today demand very substantial margins on stock purchases—so much so that there has been complaining. But such a course is really in the best interest of the buyer of stock as well as of the broker. Quotations for a great many stocks have this year reached wholly unprecedented levels. The higher the stock rises the more room there is for it to fall, of course. Therefore, protection against possible emergencies is both warranted and commendable. Indeed, brokers could very properly be censured were they to accept orders for speculative issues on thin margins because there would be grave danger that the buyer would be wiped out.

The truth is that the black sheep in Wall Street are few in comparison with those who are absolutely honest. The Stock Exchange authorities promptly punish any member found guilty of the slightest infraction of their extremely strict rules. The crookedness popularly associated with Wall Street is not to be found among Stock Exchange members or members of other local exchanges, but among shysters who haven't the slightest standing or the slightest recognition in respectable Wall Street.

Investigate before you invest—investigate, more particularly, the house you propose to deal with. Don't take its own say-so for its probity and record. Consult some trustworthy source not suggested by it.

Decent Wall Street houses are as decent as decent houses in other lines of business.

'CHAIRMAN' IS VANISHING AS U. S. TITLE

By FRANK H. MELOON
Financial Editor

High-sounding title of "Chairman of the Board" seems to be vanishing from big corporation life in America.

Directors of American Telephone, world's largest corporation, sat in Boston yesterday, and furnished the surprise of the day when announcement was made through President Walter S. Gifford that Harry B. Thayer was leaving the company after nearly half a century of service. Three years ago Mr. Thayer resigned as president and became chairman of the board, which important office is now abolished. This is reminiscent of the action of U. S. Steel, which failed to elect a successor to the late Judge E. H. Gary as chairman of the board. General Motors is also lacking two chairmen temporarily, perhaps permanently.

Col. Leonard P. Ayres Walter S. Gifford

* * *

A sidelight of American progress is furnished in the fact that about $25,000,000 was invested in the Bell system when Mr. Thayer was graduated from Dartmouth and started work, grown to over three and a half billions. Jeremiah Smith, Jr., now on his way to the Hague, referred to in this column earlier in the week, was elected a director of American Telephone.

Jeremiah Smith, Jr.

Another automobile company president is hotly engaged in the race for the governorship. Some evidence of this is furnished when, instead of the common "Hoover" or "Al" auto plates, one sees the fiery lettering of Frank A. Goodwin. The Goodwin nameplate, conceived and multiplied by friends, is a facsimile of the signature familiar to hundreds of thousands of Bay State autoists who scrutinize the papers that entitle them to operate their cars.

In the ancient island town of New Castle, N. H. to which Paul Revere once rode on a secret mission for the Sons of Liberty that led to first open act of war against England, a little church has just observed its 100th anniversary. The speaker of the occasion brought out the fact that, according to the church records meat at one time in Colonial days was up to $4.25 a pound. At a later period, according to the same records, coal was $50 a ton.

Doubtless these are isolated "high spots," but increasingly efficient business methods have had much to do with lowering commodity prices. "Barron's" forecasts years of lower prices ahead in the commodities market, and it by no means follows that corporation profits will be decreased. It has often happened that lower commodity prices have spelled increased profits, due to augmented consumption.

The top price quotation on spring broilers on the New York market has dropped steadily each season from $1.15 per pound in 1921 to 55c per pound in 1928, stated E. H. Rinear of the New Hampshire Agricultural Experiment Station in a report on a broiler price study at the opening meeting of Farmers' and Home-Makers' Week at the University of New Hampshire.

Leading bankers and financial authorities are spilling a good deal of vitriol around the Federal Reserve Board these days. Many feel that there must be "some fire where there is smoke." We find Col. Leonard P. Ayres, the very prominent gentleman who is vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Co., declaring there is little reason to suppose the downward revision of stock prices and brokers' loans have been completed.

It is indeed clear that the Federal Reserve mesures have failed to bring about much shrinkage in brokers loans. The Boston News Bureau says it is "dificult to see the necessity for the present stiff mony rates." Barron's looks for an era of lower commodity prices and higher quotations for securites held for investment.

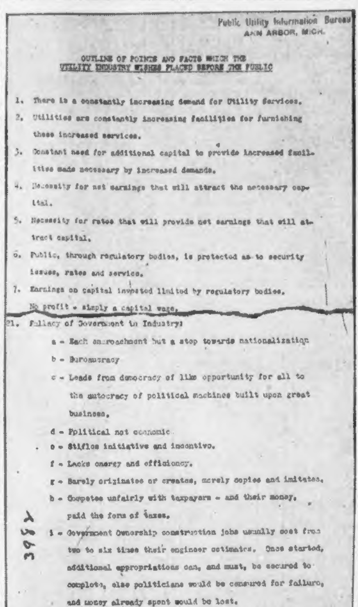
How Trust Molds Opinion



Public Utility Information Bureau
ANN ARBOR, MICH.

OUTLINE OF POINTS AND FACTS WHICH THE
UTILITY INDUSTRY WISHES PLACED BEFORE THE PUBLIC

1. There is a constantly increasing demand for Utility Services.
2. Utilities are constantly increasing facilities for furnishing these increased services.
3. Constant need for additional capital to provide increased facilities made necessary by increased demands.
4. Necessity for net earnings that will attract the necessary capital.
5. Necessity for rates that will provide net earnings that will attract capital.
6. Public, through regulatory bodies, is protected as to security issues, rates and service.
7. Earnings on capital invested limited by regulatory bodies.
No profit - simply a capital wage.

21. Fallacy of Government in Industry:
    a - Each encroachment but a step towards nationalization
    b - Bureaucracy
    c - Leads from democracy of like opportunity for all to the autocracy of political machines built upon great business.
    d - Political not economic.
    e - Stifles initiative and incentive.
    f - Lacks energy and efficiency.
    g - Rarely originates or creates, merely copies and imitates.
    h - Competes unfairly with taxpayers - and their money, paid the form of taxes.
    i - Government Ownership construction jobs usually cost from two to six times their engineer estimates. Once started, additional appropriations can, and must, be secured to complete, else politicians would be censured for failure, and money already spent would be lost.
    j - It usually takes from two to six times as long to complete a job as would private industry.
    k - Government, unlike private industry, can take care of deficits via the tax route.

HERE the architectural plan for the building of public opinion on subjects affecting utilities is communicated in toto to propagandists by the National Electric Light Association, dominant power lobby organization. "Leading men of the industry" formulated it as representing "points the industry wished placed before the public" through 28 propaganda bureaus, operating in 38 States and working through schools, colleges, the press, and an army of public speakers. Utilities make "no profit—simply a capital wage." The public is "protected" by regulation.

"POWER" TRIED TO INFLUENCE WOMEN'S VOTE

By M. L. RAMSEY

Washington, Aug. 16 (US)—Power lobby organizations kept the League of Women Voters under surveillance, and worked among its members in an attempt to silence talk of cheaper current for American housewives, Federal Trade Commission records show.

Comparison of electric light rates charged by private corporations with the far lower rates in effect in Ontario was a special target of the propagandists in a number of states, the records disclosed.

A memorandum of the Michigan propaganda bureau noted that the Michigan league had received from the National League's committee on living costs a questionnaire on household rates. Armed with this and books on electric power, the women, it appeared were to find out whether they were paying too much for current.

STEWART'S REPORT

"The joint committee of national utility associations—the power lobby—is in touch with the national situation and is supplying officials and influential members of the National League of Women Voters with the rate research report prepared by the rate research committee of the National Electric Light Association and presented at the convention at Atlantic City last June, and other information which meets the issues raised on 'electric power and the public welfare.'"

The memorandum then called attention to the unfavorable report on Ontario hydro-electric made by Prof. E. A. Stewart, of the University of Minnesota, who was paid $500 a month and expenses by a light association division for a trip to Europe after his report appeared.

INITIATE RATE STUDY

On January 4 Arthur W. Stace, propaganda director, reported to the Michigan committee that the rate study appeared to have been initiated by the National League, adding:

"It may be possible to counteract these outside unwholesome influences by establishing contacts with the Michigan leaders and keeping them informed as to the beneficial part electric power, as developed through private initiative and enterprise, is playing in the material prosperity and social advancement of the people of the State.

"At the same time utility managers might be fortified to meet local manifestation of the suspicion and discontent generated through credulous, unthinking, or unquestioning acceptance of the ideas, suggestions and innuendoes cleverly planted in 'electric power and the public welfare.'"

Boston Notes

CITIES Service Co. declared regular monthly dividends of ½ of 1 per cent in cash and ½ per cent in stock on the common, 50 cents on the preferred and preferred "BB" stocks and five cents on preferred "B" stock, all payable Oct. 1.

TIME for depositing Int. Paper shares has been extended to Sept. 20. Majority of company's stocks has been deposited favoring holding company plan.

WESTON Electrical Instrument Corp. reports for six months ended June 30 net profit of $246,611 after depreciation, federal taxes, etc., against $239,894 in first half of 1927.

WESTON for quarter ended June 30 had net profit of $129,292, against $92,768 in second quarter of 1927.

REPORTS persist that preliminary conferences have been held by officials of S. S. Kresge and S. H. Kress on merger of two companies, second and third largest in the 5 and 10-cent field.

MUSIC, DANCE ON HARBOR SAIL

For those seeking a novel evening's entertainment the Rose Standish, the concert steamer owned and operated by the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company, may well be chosen, for on this commodious steamer the public finds entertainment de luxe.

Every Friday and Saturday evening this palatial steamer cruises over Boston harbor for a moonlight harbor sail, with a seven-piece jazz orchestra, the seventy-piece Hingham Community Band, an organization of considerable merit, and vaudeville artists from one of the best known booking agencies in the country, all to insure an evening of complete enjoyment for the passengers.

This steamer has a large dance floor, and dancing may be enjoyed for fully four hours, for the orchestra plays before the steamer leaves and after it returns to Boston.

For those who enjoy band music there is a specially selected program by the Hingham Community Band each evening, and the music is most enjoyable while seated on the comfortable deck of this large steamer.

On Trip South

The Grace liner, Santa Elisa, sailed today, for Peru and Chile via the Panama Canal. Among the passengers sailing were J. M. Barker, Branch Manager of the First National Bank of Boston in Buenos Aires.

CONSTANCE TO MAKE FILM ABROAD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16—There is one girl who isn't eager to leave Hollywood for a European trip, but business calls, and Constance Talmadge is too much of a real trouper to turn down the offer that came to her from Joseph Schenck to make a United Artists' production abroad.

Mr. Schenck, who was unable to find a suitable story for Connie before he sailed for Europe, cables Mrs. Margaret Talmadge, saying that he would like Constance to make a film in Europe for United Artists. Mrs. Talmadge accepted her son-in-law's offer via cable. Mr. Schenck, himself, sailed for America and he is leaving the final negotiations in the hands of Dudley Field Malone, his European legal representative.

The first cable came about a week ago and suggested "Three Passions," Rex Ingram's next production, which is to be made in Nice. Connie's former husband, Capt. Alastair McIntosh, is studio manager for the Ingram Co. and, just to show that he doesn't harbor any ill will toward the vivacious Connie, he telegraphed her, hoping that she would come to Nice.

Mrs. Talmadge, however, said yesterday the Ingram thing is not definite. But Connie's European trip and a picture for United Artists is all settled, a final cable to Mr. Schenck having clinched the matter. Mrs. Talmadge will accompany her daughter, who sails as soon as Mr. Schenck radio-cables the word.

IF there is any subject the movies haven't attempted in one way or another, will some one please raise his right hand? Everything from insect life to love in a tropical land has been done. Now comes Universal with the avowed intention of showing Polar exploration. None of our heroes who have braved the icy winds will be featured. The main figure of the story is an imaginary person, a composite picture of all explorers. Just so this little jaunt into the cold Arctic regions will bear the stamp of authenticity, Capt. Hajon H. Hammer has been requisitioned to assist J. Grubb Alexander to write the scenario. Now, just a moment, while I tell you about Capt. Hammer. He was head of the flying corps of the Amundsen expedition which made 21 flights from Spitzbergen, so he ought to know what he is talking about. Edward Montaigne will supervise, if that means anything to you.

TO Ernst Pubitsch, making motion pictures is a serious business therefore, he never acts in a hurry. He has been testing players every day this week and so far, in addition to John Barrymore, the star of "Konquest," and Camilla Horn, his blonde leading lady, only one player has been chosen. He is Victor Varconi, who, naturally, will play an important role. Varconi, under the direction of Pupisch should give the best performance of his career. He is a good actor, and better, of course, when he has good direction. His work as Pontius Pilate in the "The King of Kings" proved that.

JAMES GLEASON has rolled up his sleeves and gone to work in earnest, writing originals for the screen. The stage may have been good to him but he expects the screen will be better. Mr. Gleason's first original, "Totems," was written by Robert Armstrong. His second is the story he has just finished for Vilma Banky. Vilma plays an American girl. That ought to please her for she always says she wants to be an American. And now that she has learned to speak English so well, she could easily pass for an American beauty. She and Rod La Rocque—her legalized leading man, are leaving next week for Lake Tahoe for trout fishing. President Coolidge isn't the only fisherman on record.

TALK about the League of Nations, they are going out and getting representatives of every nationality for the movies. The Mexicans did it. They proved that exotic young women are in demand and now we are in for a season of new types. Dorothy Janis, half Indian and you cannot call her a foreigner, since she boasts of the blood of the first American, has been put under contract by Louis B. Mayer for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Miss Janis is on the type of Lupe Velez, and if she has half Lupe's charm we promise a sensation.

MAUDE FULTON, author of "The Brat," "The Big Top," "The Humming Bird" and other successful stage plays, will write dialogue for the Fox company. Maudie has been doing very well as director of the Vine Street Stock Company, and so she wasn't in a hurry to leave her stage work, but what with the possibilities of movietone becoming more and more important, she just couldn't refuse this chance. She begins work September 15.

JOHN CONSIDINE, JR., left for New York to meet Joseph Schenck when he returns from Europe. Mr. Considine said the boss of United Artists will be back on the job, not later than the last week in August. Garret Lloyd, better known as Jack Lloyd, is also on his way Eastward. He goes to write the dialogue for Harry Richmond's first movie, which, by the way, will be made on the United Artists' lot.

3000 ATTEND FESTIVITIES

North Boston and South Boston Managers' Benefit Association of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company held their annual outing at Lake Pearl Park in Wrentham, where 3000 employes with their friends spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening. The program consisted of games, swimming and a delightful box lunch, served to everyone present.

A. AND P. BOSSES HOLD ANNUAL OUTING

The North Boston and the South Boston Managers' Benefit Association of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. held their annual outing at Lake Pearl Park in Wrentham Wednesday.

The exodus to Wrentham began as soon as the various stores closed for the regular Wednesday half holiday and hundreds of members of the organization, with their families, took part in the afternoon and evening festivities. Fully 2000 assembled in the park where there was boating, swimming, games and an excellent box lunch.

The lunch was the first thing in order on the well-planned program of F. H. Smith, New England Association representative and chairman of the outing. And it was no ordinary lunch of taking what was handed out. Instead, each person travelled the length of many tables, selecting a chicken or crab meat salad, fancy ices and frosted bottles of tonic. More than 5000 bottles of tonic had been given out before the outing was over, the soft drink stand being the most popular spot with one exception—the lake.

W. J. DAVISON MISSED

Although there wasn't a flaw in the afternoon and evening's enjoyment, still many of the managers missed the genial presence of W. J. Davison, president of the eastern division, who has attended all previous outings since he came to New England. He had planned to come but was suddenly called to New York, but even then he took time enough to dictate a letter with his regrets to be read at the outing. But practically the entire list of New England officers were on hand including L. W. Thompson, vice-president; L. W. Beebe, general superintendent; J. D. Rindge, director of purchases; H. L. Treeman, director of operations; P. H. Doehler, treasurer; F. W. Buxton, advertising manager; F. B. Cawley, sales manager; D. C. MacKeachie, purchasing agent; and H. C. Lowell, meat buyer. A. T. Dickinson, director of the Portland unit, was an especial guest.

TRAPPS WINNERS

In the games, for which J. Ryan and J. P. Gordon were official judges, the Trapp family scored heavily in the winnings, with E. C. Trapp taking first in the managers' 50-yard dash, while his wife took second to Miss June Simpson in the ladies' obstacle race and little Virginia Trapp took second to Jean O'Brien in the little girls' race. C. W. Walsh won the 50-yard dash for boys under 16; Mrs. J. Regan the egg and spoon race; Edward Barrett the clerks' obstacle race, and John Conroy the little boys' race. The North Side baseball team defeated the South Side nine by a score of 11 to 5.

BOSTON GARTER MEN ATTEND CONVENTION

Boston Garter salesmen from all over the country with the exception of the Pacific coast are in Boston for a three day convention. In spite of the hot weather, which is new to some of the men, enthusiasm for the first day was keyed up to a high pitch by the many new numbers which they were shown at the factory of the George Frost Company at 551 Tremont st.

The program for today and Friday is one that the men are looking forward to with a great deal of interest as dealer displays and advertising and sales policies will be taken up at the conference to be held in the Swiss room of the Copley-Plaza.

200 COUPLES ATTEND MORGAN OUTING DANCE

More than 200 couples attended the summer dancing party of Morgan's Furniture Store, 757 Washington st., at Crescent Gardens ballroom, Revere. Song and dance numbers were given by several talented Morgan's entertainers. Mr Bernard and Mr. Warren headed the committee on arrangements.

3 MORE CLUBS TO SEE NEW FILM

members to see the picture, realizing that it is the sort of film that is worthwhile and will add to general knowledge.

Mrs. Gevalt said, "I think it is most generous of the Boston Evening American to invite the members of Parent-Teachers' Association to view this film. I am sure it will be most instructive. It is the sort of film that our members are always glad to see, as the newspaper is part of their daily lives."

WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY

Mrs. Howard said, "This is a wonderful opportunity and I am certain the members of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts will be glad of the chance to see this educational picture. I want to thank the Boston American in behalf of all our members."

Mrs. Wheeler said, "It is very kind of the management of the Boston American to give the members of the organization, of which I am president, this splendid opportunity to see 'The Making of a Newspaper.' I know they will gain much useful knowledge from viewing it."

Other organizatins that have accepted invitations to see the picture next week include Boston City Club; Boston Rotary Club, Women's City Club of Boston and Girls' City Club of Boston.

"The Making of a Newspaper" is one of the most absorbing pictures of its kind ever made. The resources of 28 Hearst newspaper plants in this country were utilized to make it. The first reel opens with actual International Newsreel movies of the sinking of the British freighter Antinoe in mid-ocean and the rescue of the crew by the crew of the United States steamship, President Roosevelt.

"STORY" FOLLOWED THROUGH

This "story" is then followed through a newspaper plant from the time the "flash" comes over the wires until it appears on the street in the finished newspaper. Every process of importance in getting the story out is shown. The race against time to write the story in the editorial room, the writing of the headline, setting up of the story in the composing room, making of illustrations from photographs sent by wireless, making of metal plates in the stereotype department for the presses and the presses themselves, as they turn the papers out at high speed and automatically count them in lots of 50 as they emerge—all these are vividly shown. The picture will amaze the average person who has little conception of the manner in which a modern daily is put together.

Many marvelous inventions, that are used each day in every up-to-date newspaper office are pictured, including the electrically operated typewriter. How the telephone, cable, telegraph and radio are utilized to give the reader his news when it IS news are shown.

NOTED FIGURES PORTRAYED

A clear idea of the initiative, danger and romance, that figure daily in the life of a newspaperman will be obtained by every one, who attends Loew's State Theater next week. Forever after, when they pay two cents for a newspaper, they will visualize the processes, through which it passed before reaching them.

Several closeups of noted persons are included in the film. Among them are pictures of William Randolph Hearst at his California ranch, Arthur Brisbane, the most widely read writer in the world today and of many of the artists whose "funnies" help us forget our troubles each day.

NATIONAL POLICIES OF THE HEARST NEWSPAPER

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world.
2. A constitutional amendment to provide for election of United States Senators in numbers proportionate to the population of each State but no State to have less than two Senators. A reapportionment of Congressional representation immediately after every census, or in case of the failure of Congress so to act, to make the apportionment automatic at the end of the first Congressional session, the proportion of population for each representative in each case to be that of the existing Congress.
3. A separate Department of the Army, of the Navy and of the Air Forces, all united under a Secretary of National Defence.
4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish illiteracy among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.
5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of a President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.

Our Wages Are Highest

Why? Because Our Workmen Are the World's Greatest Producers

Business men and economists have long known the reason why American industries pay the highest wages in the world. The reason is that American workmen produce more, mainly, because they are given more machinery to produce with. This is graphically illustrated in figures collected by the National Industrial Conference Board, comparing wages and output in the United States and Great Britain.

For example, take automobiles. Motor vehicle factories in Great Britain, in 1924, used approximately 1.3-horsepower for every wage earner employed. American automobile factories, in 1925, used 2.75-horsepower per worker, double the amount of machine energy working with each automobile employe in England.

As a result, the annual net output or value added by manufacture per wage earner was $1206 in Great Britain. In the United States it was $4096 per worker.

In steel and rolling mills the value added per wage earner was $3050 in the United States and $975 in Great Britain. In machinery the figures were $3325 for the United States, $99 for Great Britain. In electrical manufacturing the United States figures were $3765, the English were $1198.

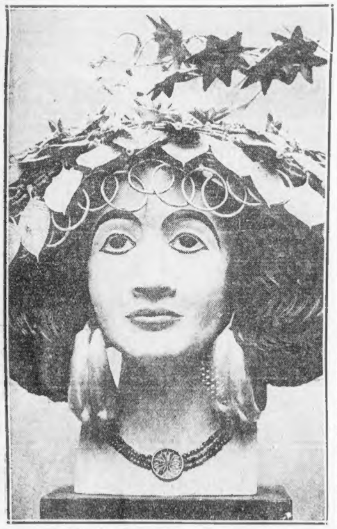
Of course, the American wage earner does not get the entire sum. Part of it goes to pay interest on the investment in plant and machinery, part of it goes for profits and the rewards of management. But these figures are the basis for wages paid in the United States and England alike. So it is not strange to find British labor leaders reporting that American wages are two and three times as high as theirs abroad.

For this development American labor leaders themselves deserve a large share of credit. They have been farsighted enough not to oppose the introduction of machinery in American industry.

That is, they have not been opposed to supplying the workman with more machinery to earn more wages for himself.

Queen Looks Modern

Moses Saw Faces and Head Dresses Like This



QUEEN SHUB-AD, WHO LIVED IN ANCIENT UR, 5,000 YEARS AGO

Above you see, reconstructed, with scientific painstaking, the headdress, wig and gold hair ornaments of Queen Shub-Ad of Ur.

That ancient city sank into the ground thousands of years ago. This queen lived her little moment, died and was buried, 5000 years ago.

C. Leonard Woolley, learned archeologist at work in Mesopotamia, finds the ancient queen's tomb and headdress.

She wore gold ribbon in her hair, beautiful leaves of gold, earrings, and the wig that you see.

Her face reproduced in wax, modeled on a female Sumerian skull of the period, gives an idea of the queen's appearance.

Moses probably saw faces and headdress of this kind.

Women have changed a thousand times, clothes, hair, ornaments, going out, coming back. But always they have been dissatisfied with themselves as nature produced them, forever seeking improvements.

The wisdom of Providence shows there undoubtedly.

Eventually they will realize that it is not the gold ribbon, the wig or the earrings on the OUTSIDE of the head, but the thinking, the sentiment, the aspiration on the INSIDE of the head that counts.

BILLBOARD AND THE BEAUTY OF NATURE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

ANY criticism of billboard advertising must incur the danger of being objected to by those whose "craft is in danger." All the same there are many who believe that billboard advertising not only spoils the beauties of nature and is offensive to the traveler, but that it is unscientific and uneconomical.

Advertising should not only call attention of the possible customer to the article to be bought, but it should pay its own way. That is, it should make possible the beneficial effects of the medium.

Newspapers and magazines are the ideal place for advertising. People not only expect it there, but the money spent in putting it there makes the publication possible. Almost every periodical depends upon advertising for the main part of its revenue.

The publisher of a popular magazine, priced at five cents, told this writer some time ago that every copy of that magazine cost him 41 cents. The profits were in advertising.

The Supreme Court of Kansas has declared valid a legislative statute which prohibited any kind of signs, except official markers, on the highways, also any type of advertising sign within 500 feet of a turn in the road, and intersection, or a railroad grade crossing.

America is known for its advertising, but Arthur Newton Pack, president of the American Nature Association, asks if we are proud of so many of our roadside landscapes walled with ugly signboards.

Connecticut and Maryland have shown us the way of remedying this evil. It is roadside tree planting. A highway lined on both sides with trees is poor meat for the outdoor advertiser.

Trees do not obscure the landscape, but form an attractive frame for it. They make it hard to read billboard advertisements.

In New York and New Jersey, and in other states, it is illegal to attach signs to trees.

Many states have passed laws forbidding advertising signs on rights of way.

Theodore Roosevelt said: "Do not let selfish men or greedy interests skin your country of its beauty."

Henry Van Dyck in an address at Los Angeles said that what Southern California needs more than anything else is to prevent spoiling the beauty of the landscape by advertisements. The Garden Club of America, with 79 clubs throughout the country, has inaugurated a Billboard Restriction Campaign by sending to all member clubs its billboard calendar.

It is pretty hard to withstand the inroads of commercialism, but every lover of nature should co-operate with the Anti-Billboard Campaign.

There is no reason why the highways of America should not be as attractive as those of France. All travelers know how beautiful are the French highways lined with rows of trees.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

HARRIET'S heart is broken again.

She has just discovered that her husband lied to her.

After loving and trusting him and giving up the best years of her youth to him, and calling him at the office about five times a day to give him orders, what do you suppose that miserable pup up and did?

Told her over the phone that he was in conference and couldn't possibly go out and help her choose the new linoleum. Then, when she walked in on him 5 minutes later, she found him sitting in on a little game of poker with Fred Collins and a couple of stenogs!

Which most of my female readers will immediately admit is enough to bust any good, true, refined lady wife's heart.

But, if it's my last act, I'm going to state that in my opinion IT SERVED HER RIGHT.

If I had a wife (or a husband) who was always tagging around after me and keeping tabs on me and otherwise pestering me, I'D LIE, TOO.

That isn't dishonesty. It's merely self-preservation. And if there's any place a Self needs preserving, it's in matrimony.

There never was a bigger piece of hokum than the theory that two wedded souls become as one.

No power on earth can — or should—make your soul a part of any other soul. Nor give you the right to boss or heckle any other soul.

We DON'T own our husbands, and they don't own us. We're separate and distinct individualities, united in one of the forms of partnership of which humans are capable which particular form we call marriage. It's somewhat different from the others forms. BUT IT'S AMENABLE TO THE SAME RULES.

You've no more right to intrude upon your husband's business privacy, or demand an accounting of all his outgoings and incomings than you would have the right to intrude upon and demand details of the janitor. It's an outrage and an impertinence, and if he roars at you and eventually lies to you, IT SERVES YOU RIGHT!

If you want to enter into the intimate affairs of your husband's life, GET YOURSELF INVITED. You'll be invited fast enough, if you prove yourself a necessity and a joy. There's nothing a man likes more than a sympathetic audience and a sensible adviser who knows enough not to advise—which is what any sensible adviser should do.

But DONT expect to get results by bullying and DON'T DEMAND DETAILS.

It's bad enough to have to spend 0 hours on the rock pile without having to describe each individual rock you've smashed.

(Copyright, 1928, King Features Synd., Inc.)

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

If ideas and words were distinctly weighted and duly considered they would afford us another sort of logic and critic than what we have been hitherto acquainted with.—Locke.

He who would do some great thing in this short life must apply himself to the work with such a concentration of his forces as to idle spectators, who live only to amuse themselves, looks like insanity.—Foster.

Be not diverted from your duty by any idle reflections, the silly world may make upon you, for their censures are not in your power, and consequently should not be any part of your concern.—Epictetus.

It is not the quantity of meat, but the cheerfulness of the guests which makes the feast. Where there is no peace, there can be no feast.

—Earl of Clarendon.

Company are to be avoided that are good for nothing; those to be sought and frequented that excel in some quality or another.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

AS long as the new song of the sea-wind comes with its stories of tropic isles, as long as the rain on the low roof drums or the sun on the rice-field smiles, there is endless peace in this nook of the world where the hours are slow and sweet, with the slim, green plumes of the rice unfurled to the shimmering waves of heat. There is nothing marring men's dreams by day which are fairer than dreams by night, where the heavy heads of the young rice sway and with dusk comes the bull-bat's flight. For as long as the voice of the sea-wind calls with the tang of salt on its lips, its fragrant spell on the spirit falls with the glamor of out-bound ships.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—New Yorkers have never learned to love Central Park as the Frenchman loves the Bois, but the popularity of this great breathing space so close to the heart of the city is growing. Every summer the list of "regulars" in the park increases.

One sees the same faces day after day strolling around the gravel path of the reservoir. And also the same figures flashing by on the bridle path. Central Park to many is becoming a fixed habit. At sunup may be seen a number of the illustrious from Millionaire's Row enjoying a morning constitutional.

The Mall is crowded on pleasant days with children, in charge of nurses, rolling hoops and riding in goat carts. Ponderous motor cars stop at either Mall entrance and fashionably clad men and women alight for a promenade that suggests the Champs Elysees.

There are myriad diversions for the Central Park visitor that offer a sudden relief from the city's jangle. Geese and graceful swans disport in the southeastern lake. The zoo, while small and intimate, offers a careful selection of birds and wild beasts.

On the middle big lake are motor-boats and skiffs for hire. Also fly casting platforms. On a nearby meadow is the croquet grounds, where white-whiskered old men totter around with their mallets and umbrellas overhead to ward off the sun.

There are various other expansive stretches of greensward where baseball and other outdoor games are permitted. There is the Shakespeare garden abloom with patches of rare flowers. The old block house, McGowan's Pass Tavern. The Casino restaurant. And the art museum.

There are cliff walks with natural stone steps, quaint bridges spanning placid little streams, wisteria bowers with long comfortable benches, and innumerable other nooks and crannies. To say nothing of the Egyptian obelisk, which glinted by moonlight is one of the most entrancing sights in the city.

AMONG the finest physical specimens of the New York police force are the mounted patrolmen in Central Park. Expert horsemen, they have dashed gallantly to rescue and swept hysterical ladies into their protecting arms from fractious horses. And romance has kindled by their gallantry. Two mounted park policemen have married rich heiresses.

OLD women who stand at park entrances with toy red balloons tugging in the breeze are not so poverty stricken as they appear. They sell few of their balloons, but the odd change dropped in their hands by passersby is considerable. One is said to own an apartment house in the Bronx, bought with gratuities. Still, all beggars are reputed to own apartment houses.

THERE is a wooded strip in the park dotted with comfortable benches, known as Lover's Lane. It is a romantic rendezvous for sailors and their girls and an understanding policeman who patrols the idyllic lane walks along the paths gazing at the heavens. He never so much as glances at occupied benches, bless his heart.

A GENTLEMAN who flew to New York from Texas this week brought along a pet white rabbit. In crossing the lobby of a Fifth ave hotel the rabbit leaped from his arms and went hopping down a long hallway.

"We don't permit rabbits here," said an imperious frock-coated floor manager with a gorgeous flower in his lapel.

"Yeah," drawled the Texan. "Well, you catch it. I've always wanted to see a gentleman in a frock coat hunting rabbits on Fifth ave. anyway."

"WE don't suppose," reads one of those impassioned get-rich-quick letters, "that anything would tempt you to sacrifice a little time from your profession, even if it makes you independently rich. We wrote you before without answer and see now that not even quick wealth will budge you from what we consider foolish loyalty."

Don't be silly I can be had.

"For Example"

Congress Must Respect the Constitution and PASS A REAPPORTIONMENT BILL

The House of Representatives always gets through its business before the Senate. There is no reason this next session why it should not debate and pass a reapportionment bill.

Congressional districts are still apportioned among the States on the basis of the 1910 census, in open violation of the Constitution.

Representative McLeod, of Detroit, who is canvassing the membership of the House in the interests of action on reapportionment in the next session, announces a host of favorable replies.

It will be nice if the House decides itself to observe the highest law of the land

Our Automobiles Abroad

Export Figures Which Amaze the World

Recently an American automobile manufacturer came out with a new car. Within a few weeks he was announcing that his car was on the road in forty-two foreign countries.

Our automotive exports are one of the wonders of the world. Last year they totalled $400,000,000, and in our export list were exceeded only by raw cotton and petroleum products.

According to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce foreign purchases of our automobiles in 1927 were equivalent to the 1927 total sales of new cars in twenty of our States lumped together: Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and Nevada.
